

Day of Decision About Viet Nam Is Approaching

United States Must Commit Itself on Definite Program

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — The test of America's courage is at hand.

Who speaks for the United States today — the isolationists who want to pull out of Viet Nam, or the advocates of a firm policy even if it involves further cause he thought the British towards and wouldn't fight. Southeast Asia?

Lawrence

Those who want to draw down the curtain of Connecticut, has just made in the Senate a lengthy speech which points out the dangers of the talk of withdrawal from Viet Nam and especially of the proposals that peace negotiations be begun at this time — a step which could be construed as a sign of fear and weakness.

The situation in Viet Nam today," said Sen. Dodd, "bears many resemblances to the situation just before Munich. Chamberlain wanted peace. Churchill wanted peace. Churchill said that if the free world failed to draw the line against Hitler at an early stage, it would be compelled to draw the line under much more difficult circumstances at a later date.

30 Ships Waiting

Dock Strike Has Big Effect in Galveston

BY RONNIE THOMPSON
GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Others in the West Gulf and barely visible on the horizon off South Atlantic ILA districts still the east end of Galveston Is. out on strike? land, about 30 ships wait in the Gulf of Mexico, victims of a one or two at each pier — with their lights flicker at night ago. Often you find the picket like a small city. The merchant ships, flying and the men sleeping or talking flags of many nations, have been anchored there for weeks, awaiting a break in the 44-day-old longshoremen's strike so they can load or unload cargo. The vessels are major evil-doers that this port city of 70,000 is gripped by its longest dock strike since 1935. Business groups estimate it is costing the city $100,000 daily.

Things are in a helluva shape, said a banker who asked not to be identified. Businessmen are hesitant to voice opinions on the labor dispute, mainly because they do business with both sides — their wives working. But some members of the International Longshoremen's Association and the maritime industry. Tell a merchant he won't be identified in print, and he'll tell striking workers are prohibited by law from receiving employment. Officials estimate about one-third of Galveston's economy revolves around the waterfront. "It's killing my business," a car dealer said. Saint-Laurent Show Worth Waiting For

BY LUCE NOEL
PARIS (AP) — Yves Saint-Laurent has returned to the fisherman's smock, bringing it out for smart city wear, and entertaining at home.
His collection was shown to the press today, a month after most of the other houses.
Saint-Laurent, his designing amateurism gone, turned to linens, Aleutian weaves and silk prints for his smocks. Many had long flowing Ascot ties or pussy-cat bows.
Another favorite line is a wrap-around surplice fronted dress, ending with a bow at a very low neckline.
The mode is youthful and Saint-Laurent has found inspiration in a variety of styles from different countries.
Wide Variety
Continuing an Indian trend, many little dresses recall Aladdin with their jeweled borders and neckline treatment. Many others are demurely Victorian, for Saint-Laurent makes a wide use of ruffles and ruffles, edging necklines, hemlines and pointed shawl scarves with fabric featuring a three-inch ruffle.
There are ruffles on Saturday night black chiffon dresses as well as on floral prints.
The Chinese trend comes through in oversize shawl embroidery in effective evening colors on his favorite green. Besides his coolie hats there are flowing paneled evening dresses reminiscent of the Chinese ancient dynasty robes. There are Coromandel screen patterns shown in a flowing daytime coat and dress.
Millinery History
Saint-Laurent's millinery will make fashion history. There are coolie hats with a rice straw brim worn over a bandanna kerchief, often bowed on the brow. For dressy daytime, with unaggressive black or print dresses, he shows an enormous mushroom shape laden with red roses in assorted varieties in the prewar mood. Another is of brown chiffon petals and king-size.
In the modern mood, Saint-Laurent shows the costume tailored jacket shown over its own two-piece or one-piece shift, and the tailored suit which is a straight hipster skirt with a blouse of silk print. This navy suit opened the collection and had a red and navy print blouse, pussy-cat bow at the neck, and a straight Van Dongen sailor hat.
Saint-Laurent also has introduced a touch of art. Not only is his millinery inspired by Kies Van Dongen, the Dutch Parisian portrait painter of the 20s, but he has had Alexandre do four different hairdos to go with his collections. There is the softly tousled curled chignon after Boldini, the typical Toulouse Lautrec twist on top of the head, a side chignon named for Gauguin, and a curious jutting out bun simply called "cannibal."

Suit Palette
His most exciting lines are his perfectly tailored suits showing several jacket lengths. These are pure modern styles done in small patterned tweeds or menswear weaves, plain wools and flannels. Navy is favored. Green, beige, gray, some soft pastels, rust tweed, and his favorite olive drabs make up his suit palette.
Most jackets are collared and the revers button back onto the front. Blouses are usually dark or navy, and pussy-cat bows are accents, black or brown or wools and flannels. Navy is favored. Green, beige, gray, some soft pastels, rust tweed, and his favorite olive drabs make up his suit palette.

Sheinwold Invite Game In Major With Raise

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
National Men's Team Champion

When you open the bidding with one spade or one heart your partner is not allowed to bid two-and-a-half of your suit. Nevertheless he has a way of showing a hand that is too good for a single raise but not good enough for a double raise. He responds first in a suit of his own and later raises your suit.

With only ten points in high cards and flat distribution, North might well have been satisfied with a raise from one spade to two spades. The actual North player thought that this would not do justice to his hand, so he showed his clubs first and raised spades later.

South would have accepted the invitation if North had responded in diamonds, but the club response did not arouse South's enthusiasm. South therefore shrewdly decided to stop short at the three spades.

As it happened, South did not play the hand as cautiously as he had bid it. He began well by taking the two top clubs and discarding a diamond, but then he slipped from grace by drawing four rounds of trumps.

Bad Break

South ran into a bad break when he tried the hearts out. East got three heart tricks, and the defenders also took two diamonds. Down one.

It was a grievous error to draw any trumps at all. After taking the top clubs South should cash the ace of hearts and lead a heart toward dummy's queen. East wins with the king of hearts and returns a trump to dummy's ten.

South gives up another heart, and East puts his partner in with a diamond to return a second round of trumps. South wins and ruffs his last heart in dummy. This ruff assures the contract.

Declarer would need good luck in hearts if he had bid game, but he needed only a heart ruff in dummy to make sure of nine tricks. The correct play of a hand depends not only on what cards you hold but also on how high you have bid.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S 6 H K J 10 9 D K 8 5 4 C Q 8 4 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds (or two clubs). You plan to raise hearts at your next turn, thus showing a hand too good for a raise to two hearts but not good enough for an immediate jump to three hearts.

Y's Menettes Employ Fantasy in Their March 6 Hat Show, Buffet

Hats will be as airy as a summer breeze this year, and models for the Y's Menettes March 6 buffet and style show at the Country Aire Club are excited over the lightness of the straws, ribbons and floral concoctions they'll wear at the 1 p.m. event.

Many of the nation's leading hat designers have taken to unusual combinations of colors in this season's chapeau offerings, permitting a hat to pair neatly with several outfits. The light look, and the light feel, prevail. Lots of fashion without weight is the byword.

Sensible Yet Capricious

The fanciful note taken up in hat fashions this season will be repeated as the Y's Menettes follow the lead of that wonderful character from 'Through the Looking Glass,' the Mad Hatter. Hatted women are, mad, they are not. Hat fashions have never been so sensible, yet so gay and full of whimsy.

Fashions and accessories for the show, from which proceeds are slated for the YMCA Building Fund, will be through the courtesy of the H. C. Prange Co. Mrs. Harold Ferron will be organist, with the instrument provided by Lauer's Pianos and Organs.

Mrs. Donald Herrling will be show commentator. General plans have been under the charge of co-chairmen Mrs. George Peterson and Mrs. Gordon Steinberg. Mrs. Gene Britton and Mrs. Kenneth Johnston have charge of decorations; Mrs. John Warner, hostesses; Mrs. Richard Uehling, models; Mrs. Rodney Vaughn and Mrs. James Williams, tickets, and Mrs. Keith Wickert, publicity.

Helping to Decorate

Assisting with decorations are Mrs. Eugene Brinkman, Mrs. Roy Wittwer, Mrs. Thomas Mann, Mrs. Bruce Henning and Mrs. Gunnard Reynolds.

Models will be Mrs. James Grist and her mother, Mrs. Henry Lamers, Mrs. David Weiland, Mrs. R. Heath Reeves, Mrs. John Harkins, Mrs. Richard Hill, Mrs. Philip Schlichting, Mrs. Douglas Robertson, Mrs. Ralph Jacobsen, Mrs. Thomas Nelson, Mrs. William Radke, Mrs. Hilton Christanson and Mrs. Edwin Cunningham. Teen models will be Misses Marsha Mohr, Amy Worthen, Mary Rae, Diane Dafoe, Ann Joseph, Jan Dutcher, Ginny Werner and Sue Christanson, whose mother is also modeling.

Against the whimsical background of a setting from 'Alice in Wonderland', the Y's Menettes are having their own 'Mad Hatter' Bing. The show of spring hats is scheduled at 1 p.m. March 6 at the Country Aire Club. Costumed above are Mrs. Gunnard Reynolds and Mrs. Thomas Mann. Determined to try on each of the pretty bonnets are models Mrs. David Weiland and Mrs. William Radke. Mrs. Weiland wears a flyaway windblown brim of rough imported straw. Copper is the color of the hat with its brim turned-back in front and down in back. Mrs. Radke's chapeau is red and white embroidered hair braid, woven with cellophane straw. Mrs. Reynolds holds a hat of pink sunbursts on hair straw with the new silk leaf treatment. Mrs. Mann offers a soft raw silk hat which combines orange, pink and green in a turban style.

The 'King of Hats,' Mrs. Roy Wittwer, tempts models Mrs. Richard Hill and Mrs. John Harkins with a spring treasure trove. Mrs. Hill wears a pink chiffon bonnet with tiny nasturtiums falling on slender stems from the folds of the crown. Mrs. Harkins' hat is a Peruvian sailor that combines color for multiple matching. Woven in turquoise and white, the grosgrain ribbon circling the crown adds tarnished gold. At left are a mother and daughter modeling team, Mrs. Hilton Christanson and Sue. Even the Mad Hatter's friend, Alice, is interested in spring chapeaux. Sue's choice is a tiny brimmed sailor that takes the young approach. Mrs. Christanson's hat is a floral toque with leaves and flowers scattered in gay abandon over the high crown.

Omro Man Files House Won't Enter $10,000 Claim Port Controversy

Says Wife's Injuries From Sidewalk Fall Led to Her Death

A rural Omro man has filed a claim for $10,000 against the City of Appleton, contending that injuries received by his wife in a College Avenue fall led to her death earlier this month.

Merle Morrow, whose wife, Ella, 71, was injured Jan. 12 and died Feb. 6, is being represented by Atty. Lewis C. Magnusen of Oshkosh.

The claim notice, usually the preliminary to a lawsuit, was filed with City Clerk Elden Broehm today.

Injured in Fall

The notice claims Mrs. Morrow fell and received serious injuries on Jan. 12 while walking in front of 117 E. College Ave.; that she was taken to a local hospital and later removed to Mercy Hospital at Oshkosh, where she died. X-rays taken at Appleton Memorial indicated the woman had received a broken hip in the fall.

It alleged that at the time of the accident there was a "sewn" portion of the sidewalk in which ice and snow accumulated, causing Mrs. Morrow's fall and suffering injuries which "later caused or contributed to her death."

The city is being charged with failing to repair the alleged sidewalk defect.

Two Youths, Driver With Citizen Band Radio Aid in Hit-Run Pursuit

Police Charge Kenneth C. Lausman With Leaving Accident Scene, Tippy Driving

Three privately-owned automobiles, one containing two 16-year-olds and another equipped with a citizens band radio and transmitter, aided police Wednesday night in the arrest of a driver who left the scene of an accident after causing over $1,000 damage to two cars.

Police today charged Kenneth C. Lausman, 44, 1307 W. George St., with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while under the influence of alcohol. He is expected to appear Friday to answer charges in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. Lausman, who posted bond of $250 at the police station where he had started following the fleeing car, was kept overnight.

Police gave this account: Jerry Birch, 816 E. South St., and James Hohnberger, 65 Ramble Court, both 16, were driving south on S. Oneida St. when they saw the car driven by Lausman strike one parked car, spin it around and continue spinning car strike a second parked car.

cars, hearing his transmissions, tried several channels to contact Hendricks. Vanodenhoven said he was attempting to learn which way the fleeing car was heading and give the information to police.

Citizen Calls A policeman was stationed at the service station transmitter to relay information to other police units.

Meanwhile, a citizens on S. Gladys Street called police to report that a car, later found to be the Lausman car, had spun out of control into a snowbank.

Birch and Hohnberger, Hendricks and an unidentified third driver, parked their cars near Lausman's damaged car. Birch said Hohnberger went to the damaged car and removed the car keys. Birch said the driver refused to leave his car.

Seconds later Appleton Patrolman James Cotter arrived at the scene and arrested Lausman, who was taken to the Appleton Police Station where he was examined by a doctor.

Police said his car was extensively damaged, but he was uninjured in the accidents. Several other uninjured in the accidents.

Police Witness Fees to Go Into Pension Fund

Council Committee Sets Policy; Some Had Retained Checks

All witness fee checks received by Appleton policemen for testifying in court should be endorsed and turned over to the city treasurer, the council's public safety committee decreed Wednesday night.

It established the policy at the request of Police Chief Earl O. Wolff who said in some cases individual policemen kept the checks.

When a policeman is on duty and must testify in court, he automatically receives regular pay, the committee indicated.

Should he be called in to testify while off duty, he will be requested to submit a time slip and will be paid overtime.

No Previous Policy

Wolff said there has never been a policy with regard to witness fees. However, he explained that once checks are received by the treasurer, the money goes into the police pension fund by city ordinance.

The committee also: —Held up action on clarifying the holiday pay policy for firemen and policemen because some members were absent. The matter was scheduled for the next meeting.

—Withheld final approval of fire department purchases until purchasing procedures are followed in keeping with regulations established by the finance director's office and council.

Appleton Man Will Face Trial March 17 For Tippy Driving

Martin F. Miller, 54, route 2, Appleton, will face trial in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 March 17 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He pleaded innocent to the count today.

County police arrested Miller early this morning on County Trunk A at 90. He was ordered to post bond of $250.

Unexpected Snag Hits Fox Plan Commission's Regional Projects Bill

Utility Official Objects to Loose Wording; Supports Basic Principle

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — Legislation designed to permit the sponsorship of regional public projects by the Fox River Valley Regional Planning Commission encountered an unexpected barrier Tuesday when it was denounced by a spokesman for a major Wisconsin utility corporation.

R. W. Peterson, agent of the Wisconsin Public Service Corporation, persuaded the assembly committee on municipalities to defer action and to call another hearing in two weeks to examine what he called "dangerously loose" wording of the measure.

Peterson said he has no objection to the declared objective of the commission of sponsoring regional park, highway and similar programs, but he said the draft of the bill might also permit inter-governmental action in the field of electrical power generation and other collective enterprises.

Sponsors Disappointed Sponsors of the measure, including officials of the commission and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, were visibly disappointed by the delay, but made no direct objection when Assemblyman Frank Scheaffer of Milwaukee, committee chairman, granted Peterson's request for delay.

As explained by Assemblyman Harold Clemens, Waukesha, chairman of an interim legislative committee on urban problems which produced the bill after long study, it would authorize two or more municipalities to contract to sponsor jointly such services and projects they are now empowered to sponsor individually and to borrow money through bonds for such works.

But Peterson insisted upon a more strict definition of "regional projects", objecting that otherwise such inter-governmental compacts might conceivably encourage the establishment of "municipal cheese factories or bakeries."

Similar Bill Peterson claimed that two years ago a similar bill, in broader language, had overtones of public power designs.

Supporters of the bill included Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, Appleton alderman; Eugene Franchette, director of planning for the Fox Valley Planning Commission; and Ed Johnson of the League.

Andrew Damon, legal counsel of the State Department of Resource Development, explained that he had assisted in drafting the measure.

Bristles at Suggestion Damon bristled when Peterson suggested that Frank Zeidler, former head of the department and a widely known Socialist, might have had a hand in the drafting of the measure.

"We must look very carefully at anything that Zeidler presents," he said.

But Damon replied that Zeidler had nothing to do with the bill beyond authorizing him as departmental legal counsel to assist the sponsors in the technical problems involved in bill drafting.

The next hearing on the bill will be held March 10.

Supervisors Question Tasks Of County Administrator

24th Annual Bean Feed

Food Disappears With Speed as Kiwanians Fete Safety Patrols

Hundreds of pounds of navy beans, dozens of rolls and hot dogs, huge gobs of ketchup, mustard and relish disappeared down the hungry throats of nearly 600 boys and girls Thursday afternoon and evening at Morgan School. The youths—who were joined by adult crossing guards—were members of the city's school safety patrol. All were guests of the Downtown Appleton Kiwanis Club which provided the 24th annual "Bean Feed" honoring the patrol.

Welcome From Kiwanis

Lt. Vernal Remter and James Cotter of the Appleton Police Department "blew the whistle" to start proceedings, then thanked the youngsters on behalf of the department for their fine work.

Hilmar (Bill) Solberg, president of Downtown Kiwanis, expressed the gratitude of club members—and all citizens—for the community service rendered by the patrol in carrying out this important safety program. Solberg also commended teachers and adult leaders for their help and guidance in the program.

William Schubert, member of the Kiwanis boys' and girls' committee which sponsors the program, introduced these guests: Appleton Fire Chief Roland Kuehn; Police Chief Earl Wolff; Aid. Arthur Mueller, assistant to the safety chairman, County Judge Gustave E. Keller; Judge Urban Van Susteren; Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spicer; Undersheriff Norbert Marx; Henry Klingbeil, state probation and parole agent, County treasurer, Raymond Bentz, and Nick F. Schaefer, district attorney.

Some special guests represented local industry. These included: Edward Krueger, safety director of Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., Maurice Lewis, manager of the gas division of the power company, and J. K. Babbitt, assistant vice president of the power co.

Also representing their companies were Richard Van Sistine, manager of Wisconsin Telephone Co. office, who, as president, also represented the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, and Clifford Williams, manager of the Atlas Mill of Kimberly-Clark Corp.

An entertainment feature of the afternoon program was the showing of comic movies.

A female employee of the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department who was forced to resign her job instead of receiving maternity leave last year, was ordered reinstated with full pay and fringe benefits efficiency study firm, will be in a decision handed down by the Outagamie County Civil Service appeal board.

Mrs. Violet Brown, a stenographer, will be granted lost vacation pay, longevity and paid her back pay she lost as a result of pay or vacation pay.

resigning her position and then Mrs. Brown has been employed by the sheriff's department since 1961. On Nov. 20, 1963, she was ordered to resign.

Outagamie May Alter Committees

BY RAY PY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Outagamie County supervisors will closely question the responsibilities of County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler, as proposed under the new committee realignment structure, but they will generally favor the committee redesign at a county board meeting in March.

That was the indication given Wednesday night by 11 committee chairmen who met to draft strategy for presenting the revolutionary committee redesign resolution to board members March 9.

The position now held by Woehler, presently referred to as the business administrator, will be called the executive secretary.

Under the proposal, he will be responsible for audits and budgets, purchasing, personnel training, the proposed service center, insurance and all other duties as directed by the executive committee.

Woehler will be directly responsible to the executive committee, a new committee which will be formed of the county board chairman and each of the six chairmen of the basic committees.

Supervisors are expected to question how much "boss" power Woehler will have in the regard to hiring and firing, recommendations for changes, discipline and purchasing.

Committee Consideration

Also expected to be questioned will be the ability of an 11-man committee to meet and function properly and how to determine who serves on what committee and how the committee head should be selected.

Favoring the resolution will be supervisors who will argue the realignment is a move in the right direction, and will give supervisors more time to debate legislative measures because their duties will not be tied up in county administrative duties.

A few supervisors will oppose the plan as a "matter of course and just because it is a change," and some supervisors are non-committal and would be willing to wait until spring, 1966, for proposed reapportionment before approving any great changes in committee design.

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer said the success of the plan would be in forming a strong, working executive committee. He told the 11-man special committee that the person selected to the executive committee is not getting "a good deal." He said the committee would be a working committee and the man selected "should be made aware of what he is getting into."

Under the redesign, all county functions would be fit into three basic committees and the executive committee. Committees formed would be the law, order and justice, the human resources, economic advancement, public facilities, the public welfare, and the highway committee.

The welfare committee and the highway committee are mandatory under state statutes. Formation of the remaining committees is at the discretion of the county board.

Fulcer said the proposed redesign has been under study by members of the Outagamie County board who visited here last week collecting information for a similar proposal in that county.

Fulcer said that as far as he knew, the Outagamie County proposal was the first of its kind in Wisconsin.

City Hall Parking Lot 'Haunting' Officials

City officials were scratching their heads again Wednesday night over the city hall parking lot.

Their problem might be equated to attempting to put a quarter in a dime slot. Potential parkers outnumber spaces.

It seems the lot, located south of the city hall building, has been a source of consternation and controversy for years.

Appleton's officialdom thought it solved the problem a year ago when it had parking meters installed so there would be enough parking space turnover.

But that was just the beginning of another squabble within the municipal family and the end is not in sight.

In addition to department heads, other city employees want to be permitted to park in the lot without having to "feed" the meters several times a day.

Technically, the so-called meter feeding is illegal but it poses an enforcement problem.

The council's public safety committee and parking commission have taken the position that if the lot was opened to all city hall employees, cars would outnumber the available spaces by a sizable margin.

And, there may not be room for citizens to park when they come downtown to city hall on official business.

The parking commission's subcommittee, appointed recently to come up with a solution to the city employee parking quandary, recommended last night that 17 key employees be permitted to use the lot fulltime.

These employees, who use their car in conducting city business, would be granted an expense account to cover parking meter expense.

However, any employee receiving such a privilege must have this request for special consideration approved by a department head, a council committee and the common council as a whole so the action becomes a part of the record.

After the recommendation was accepted by the committee and commission, it heard from representatives of a group of city hall office clerks who asked that they, too, be given some consideration. They were willing to pay for their own parking but wanted permission to do so in the city hall lot and thought a lower rate would be in order.

They claimed there are not enough spaces in the East Ramp available for rental and suggested that in lieu of parking in the city hall lot, they be given a special area and rate inside the ramp rather than on the upper deck.

Committee and commission members had mixed emotions but said they would "study the matter".

There are more than 50 municipal employees assigned to offices at the city hall.

The parking lot contains 42 spaces.

And that's the problem.

More Parking Land Sought

Celebration of 175th Anniversary Being Studied in Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The finance committee of the city council has authorized Richard Helf, chairman of the parking study unit, to begin negotiation with Walter Lucht in an effort to purchase property for off-street parking.

Lucht is owner of a fuel company between First and Second Streets located near the main southside business district.

Helf indicated the owner has expressed an interest in making property available to the city, but cost and details of payment are to be worked out. It is hoped a 100 by 100 foot area can be secured to provide parking for about 35 cars.

Helf was instructed to secure costs and report back to the committee prior to making recommendations to the council.

Negotiations are also continuing with the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. in an effort to secure some of their southside property which could be utilized for parking.

4-Day Celebration

Discussion was held on the possibility of a 4-day celebration during the summer to make the 175th anniversary of the founding of the city. No action was taken pending a meeting with representatives of the Electric and Water Utility to determine if they would be interested in joining with the city in a celebration.

The Utility had its 50th anniversary a few years ago, but no observance was held. Committee members felt this might provide an opportunity to observe both anniversaries. An outside celebration promoting concern was authorized to draft preliminary budgets and ideas for a celebration.

Off-Duty Police as Security Guard Rejected by Appleton Officials

Lloyd Berken, Appleton, was a key figure in a Milwaukee meeting of state and city officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives who met to discuss bringing the national American Legion convention on Wisconsin in August, 1968.

Commission, Public Safety Units of Council Verbally Reject Proposal for Work in Stores

City officials have all but rejected a proposal to permit off-duty uniformed policemen to work as security officers in Appleton stores or industrial plants.

A verbal rejection was given Wednesday night by the fire-police commission and council's public safety committee to the request of the H. C. Prange Co. to hire off-duty policemen.

The council's personnel committee, which also met jointly with the other groups at the city hall, said it did not have a chance to discuss the matter but would do so after obtaining an opinion from the city attorney.

No Reflection

Spokesmen for the commission and public safety committee emphasized their position was not to be interpreted as a reflection on the Prange Co., one of the city's biggest taxpayers.

City officials said because of many ramifications involved — and the possibility of opening the gates to many similar requests — approval of the Prange Co. proposal was not feasible.

Company officials felt the uniformed off-duty policeman was the answer to shoplifting and vandalism problems. They took the position that a trained policeman was best suited for the job for many reasons, including some psychological.

They said the firm was willing to negotiate a pay schedule for having the officers work at the store on College Avenue on a part-time basis.

City officials were told that uniformed policemen are hired at Prange's Sheboygan store.

While giving an informal death knell to the Prange request, city officials did suggest the firm consider:

- The employment of their own store police who could be in uniform and deputized.
- Hiring retired policemen and providing them with uniforms.

'Moonlighting'

Members of the fire-police commission let it be known they were strongly opposed to letting policemen "moonlight" in stores while in uniform.

A representative of the public safety committee said his group also recommended against uniformed policemen working in stores.

Questions of unemployment compensation, social security such activity is regulated rather than banned altogether.

However, city officials said that anytime a fireman or policeman takes outside work, he is risking a chance of losing his pension should he be sidelined permanently by a serious off-duty injury.

Officials said if the Prange Co. hired its own men to police the store, they could be given some training by the police

Questions Raised

The opinion said hiring of uniformed policemen raised several questions for which there were not clear-cut answers.

The association's attorney recommended that if police are permitted to work in the stores while in uniform and off-duty, they should be paid by the city, which would technically have them on duty. The firm would then be billed for the services by the city.

It was indicated that such an arrangement would protect the policeman with regard to pension and other matters.

While the fire-police commission has a rule against "moonlighting" (holding outside jobs),

Mikhail Suslov, powerful member of the party Presidium, met the four-man Italian delegation, headed by Enrico Berlinguer Presidium member Angelino Geronzi, and three East Germans led by Politburo member Herman Matern.

Coroner Won't Hold Inquest in Triple Fatality

District Attorney, Police Confer At Waupaca

WAUPACA — There will not be a coroner's inquest to investigate the deaths of a rural Ogdensburg couple and a Waupaca man in a two-car accident here Saturday. The announcement was made by Waupaca Police Chief Fred Rasmussen after he conferred with Dist. Atty. Richard E. Johnson.

The only person criminal charges could be brought against would be Leonard Robbins, 25, who died in the crash, Rasmussen said. The police investigation of the crash determined that the Robbins car went out of control on a curve on County Trunk E, skidded for 238 feet, crossing the centerline and hitting the Russell Burdick car. Burdick, 69, and his 70-year-old wife died instantly in the crash.

After investigating all of the rumors, it has been learned that there were no eyewitnesses to the crash.

Activities Investigated

The afternoon activities of both Robbins and the Burdicks were investigated. Robbins had visited several taverns during the afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Burdick had been shopping in Waupaca, police said. They also stopped at a laundromat before stopping to visit with his sister.

After the crash, Rasmussen said the Burdick car was driven back 36 feet. He estimated the speed of the Robbins car at over 70 miles per hour.

Saturday's tragedy is the second triple highway fatality accident recorded at Waupaca.

1930 Accident

Records of the Holly Funeral Home, which date back beyond the turn of the century, indicate that three girls died in a car-train accident Oct. 10, 1930. In that crash two Waupaca girls, Dorothy Callender, 16, her 14-year-old sister Laura, and an Appleton girl died when their car was struck by a Soo Line Railroad train at the Holbeck Street crossing. A fourth girl in the car survived the crash.

The most recent multiple fatality was March 2, 1935, when a Waupaca couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gyrion, were killed when struck by a car as they walked along School Street.

The last fatal accident recorded in Waupaca occurred Oct. 12, 1962, when Alton R. Hansen was killed as he crossed Badger Street.

Opposition to State Radio Net Has Declined

Council Official Recalls Early Views Of Broadcasters

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Commercial radio broadcasters are no longer worried about the state-supported radio broadcasting network competition, the head of the Wisconsin Radio Council told legislative financiers.

H. B. McCarty, veteran chief of the 10-unit network which is served with program material from the pioneer University of Wisconsin station at Madison, Steel Corp. was incorporated, recalled that in earlier years some of the private broadcasting companies viewed askance the expansion of the state's radio service.

"They know that we render a unique service for a specialized audience that they cannot afford to serve," he said of the commercial broadcasting station proprietors.

Turned Down

As he has at each legislative session for the last 10 years, McCarty appealed for legislative action restoring Saturday broadcasting to his schedule. Gov. Knowles, in his own budget recommendation, turned down Saturday broadcasting schedule marked that "in his position I Assemblyman George Moll would probably take the same position."

Several members of the budget-making committee of the legislature, which is controlled by Democrats who could over-ride the Knowles viewpoint if different from the weekday they chose to do so, indicated an interest in a resumption of that day.

Program Items

He suggested that the network manager provide an explanation of probable Saturday program items for the study of the committee.

The budget, as presented to the legislature by Knowles, also denied the McCarty request for experimental remote control operation of two of the network stations, and the provision of stereo broadcasting facilities. The network currently operates on a biennial budget of about $595,000. Knowles recommended $646,000 for the next two years. The largest additional item the McCarty asked was $55,000 for the restoration of the Saturday program schedule.

House GOP Lauds Byrnes

Congressman Praised For 'Leadership' On Policy Committee

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

WASHINGTON — The House Republican membership Wednesday unanimously adopted a resolution praising Rep. John W. Byrnes, R., Green Bay for his "dedicated and noteworthy" leadership during the six years he headed the Republican policy committee.

The resolution, presented by Rep. William C. Cramer of Florida when the House Republicans met in "conference," commended Byrnes for his "exemplary manner and distinction" while serving as chairman of the policy committee from January, 1959 until January of this year, when the Republican Conference approved a resolution to the effect that no member could hold a high partisan post and at the same time retain his seat as top Republican on a major committee.

At that time Byrnes, who wholeheartedly supported the resolution, decided he could serve his party and his district better as ranking member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee than as chairman of the Policy Committee, and voluntarily gave up the latter post.

In the resolution passed today, the Republican Conference noted that the Green Bay Congressman had "provided years of valuable leadership" in his capacity as chairman of the policy committee as well as in other areas.

The members of the conference expressed their "heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the most capable, dedicated and noteworthy leadership provided by Byrnes during the terms of his chairmanship."

Librarian Urges More Funds for State Facility

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The book resources of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission, available for loan, help even the larger and better quality public libraries of the state to hold their own book purchase expenditures down, the head of the Appleton public library told the legislature.

Gordon H. Bebeau, Appleton city librarian, told the legislature's finance committee, considering the state library department budget, that his institution is one of the better libraries in the state, but that it often takes advantage of books available from the state agency to avoid the purchase of particular titles for its own stacks.

"We make a calculated decision against buying some books," he said, as he spoke for the Wisconsin Library Association in urging legislative support for a larger state library appropriation.

Ready Voter Laws

Johnson Proposals Cut to Two

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is narrowing its planned voting legislation to two key proposals — a localized moratorium on literacy tests and the limited use of federal registrars.

Informed sources reporting this today said a constitutional amendment, while still under active consideration, is likely to be shelved for the time being.

The Justice Department is expected to send to President Johnson shortly — perhaps by the end of next week — its draft of proposed legislation to combat any discrimination against Negroes attempting to register and vote.

Message to Congress
Department lawyers already are drafting a message for Johnson to send to Congress, possibly in advance of the voting legislation package.

Some key administration officials believe the only thorough solution to the voting problem is a sweeping constitutional amendment that not only would ban literacy tests but guarantee the vote to anyone of age who is of sound mind and never has been convicted of a felony.

End of Decade
An amendment, one source said, would be lucky to pass Congress and the required 36 state legislatures by the end of the decade.

And those favoring immediate legislation, he said, feel a proposed amendment alone would cause Negro unrest because of that time element and the uncertainty of its success. Besides, according to one line of administration thinking, offering Congress an amendment and legislation together might jeopardize the legislation's chances with no guarantee of the amendment's success.

Test Problem
The consensus of Justice Department officials is that the abolition of literacy tests, now required in 19 states, would require a constitutional amendment. The plan being prepared for Johnson's consideration would attack the test problem while circumventing the delay tactics available to any state officials who try to avoid compliance with earlier civil rights laws aimed at making good the right to vote.

The administration proposal as now envisioned would seek a legislative finding that literacy tests have been used, in violation of the 15th Amendment, to discriminate against Negroes. Where statistics showed a percentage of voters below prescribed minimum in a state, the government could prohibit the use of literacy tests for a specified number of years.

As for federal registrars, the law as contemplated by its sponsors would provide for a local federal official, such as the postmaster, to register Negroes or other minority groups when a certain number of that group complained to him that they have been turned away by local registrars. He could, if necessary, follow through on election day and accept their ballots.

History of Muslim Leader

Muhammad Speaks

BY JOE DILL

CHICAGO (AP) — A hush falls over the jammed auditorium when Elijah Muhammad mounts the dais to preach the anti-white, anti-Christian doctrine of "the nation of Islam."

But when the soft-spoken "messenger of Allah" speaks of the "White devils" and of evening black supremacy, the hush is shattered by chants of "You're right."

Muhammad, 67, will address his followers, popularly known as Black Muslims, at their annual convention, which begins Friday and ends Sunday at the Coliseum. Heavy police protection is planned on the strength of reports that Muhammad has been marked for death by avengers of Malcolm X, a Black Muslim defector who was assassinated in New York City Sunday.

Georgia Native
Muhammad, a light-skinned, wiry native of Sandersville, Ga., has built the Black Muslims from a few scattered followers in the 1930s to an organization with a reputed membership of thousands. Membership figures are kept secret.

Born Elijah Poole, son of a sharecropper, he moved in the early 1930s to Detroit, where he met W. D. Fard, founder of the Black Muslim movement.

Poole later claimed that Fard was Allah, the god of Islam, that Fard disappeared in 1933 and his fate is unknown.

About this time, Poole disavowed his surname, saying it was that "of the slave master of my grandfather."

In 1933, he built a temple in Detroit, then moved the Black Muslim headquarters to the South Side of Chicago.

50 Temples
Now there are 50 temples, or mosques, across the nation, plus schools in Chicago and Detroit to teach Black Muslim principles.

Muhammad lives in a 19-room, red brick mansion about six blocks from Mosque No. 2. Bodyguards called the "Fruit of Islam" are near him at all times. He also has a home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Muhammad teaches his followers to hate all whites and all Negroes who want to live in white society.

"All your lives you've been hated by white people," he has said. "The white man can't love you. He is the devil himself."

Asked for State
The sect has asked the government to give them a state in which they can live in complete segregation.

Muhammad has predicted that Black Muslims will triumph over the whites some day, saying: "We are the people to rule after them."

The Black Muslims abhor the word "Negro" because it is one given the race by whites. They call Negroes the black people. Black Muslims claim they do not believe in violence, except in self-defense. But Muhammad has said "plenty of blood will be shed" before whites are exterminated.

Pray to Mecca
Black Muslims follow traditional Islamic disciplines, such as abstention from alcohol and tobacco. They pray to Mecca five times daily.

Islam, primarily a Middle East religion, teaches brotherhood and equality, rather than group supremacy. Orthodox Muslims claim the Bible is an antecedent to the Koran, the teachings of the Prophet Mohammed. They recognize Jesus as a prophet and claim he foretold the coming of Mohammed.

But Elijah Muhammad considers the Bible a "poison book" and he teaches that Christianity was designed to keep the black man in chains. Negro ministers are "as the black friends of the slave masters," he says.

Okay Hot Dogs, but Hold the Onions

BRIDLINGTON, England (AP) — The Bridlington Town Council Wednesday night approved sale of hot dogs on the seafrost but only without onions.

Some members contended that the aroma might offend visitors to the resort.

A minority view came from Councillor William Cook. He said: "They sell hot dogs outside Lord's (England's premier cricket ground) and Prince Philip hasn't resigned yet."

Rap Proposal To Ban Sale Of Pornography

Not Worth Paper It's Written On, Minister Charges

MADISON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee was told Wednesday that a bill to control sale of pornographic literature to youths under 18 was "not worth the paper it's written on."

The Rev. Albert W. Kauffman, minister of the First Congregational Church in Baraboo, said the bill would invite censorship.

"Who's going to define what is obscene literature," he asked. "We believe in the right of the individual conscience."

Examples of allegedly smut literature, books and magazines, were distributed by the proponents of the legislation to the committee during a hearing on the bill.

Threaten Committee

Sen. Allen Busby, R-Milwaukee, looked at the size and variety of the material brought by Mrs. R. V. Anderson of East Troy, and commented:

"There's enough concentrated material here to threaten the morals of the Legislative Committee."

Proponents said the bill would give law enforcement agencies the power to stem the supposedly increasing flow of such literature.

It would require local law enforcement officers to check all complaints about pornographic literature within 10 days of their receipt. The district attorney would then have 10 days to file charges or report to the attorney general why no action was taken.

Maximum Penalty

A maximum penalty of $2,000 and two years in jail is provided for under the terms of the proposal for persons convicted of selling, distributing or exhibiting such literature to persons under 18.

Sen. Jerris Leonard, R-Milwaukee, a co-sponsor, said there would be no specified censors. The bill defines pornographic literature as "that which tends to induce lust or passion."

Sukarno Strips Publications of Their Licenses

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian Information Minister Achmadi withdrew the licenses today of 21 newspapers and periodicals in Jakarta and North Sumatra that were involved with the banned anti-Communist BPS movement.

President Sukarno had ordered Achmadi to ban all periodicals connected with the BPS — the Body for the Promotion of Sukarnoism. The organization of journalists was exposing tactics of the Indonesian Communist party.

The banning is expected to leave the Communist press in a commanding position.

MOSCOW (AP) — Adam Clymer, Moscow correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, left Moscow today, complying with a Soviet government order for his expulsion.

Clymer was accused of disorderly conduct during a student demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy Feb. 9 during which rioting students attacked him.

Soviet police held Clymer under detention for seven hours and accused him of striking a

Thant Discussed Proposals

Reedy Says U. S. Engaged in No Talks to Settle Viet Nam Worries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says it is not engaged in any negotiations for a communist Viet Cong and a cease-Viet Nam settlement and that no one has been authorized to negotiate in behalf of the United States.

George E. Reedy, presidential press secretary, made these points Wednesday after U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said in New York that he had made concrete proposals aimed at a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese war. France and the Soviet Union are also seeking such an agreement.

But Reedy said: "I know of no specific proposal for negotiation that has been made to this government."

Two Conditions

U.S. officials give two conditions for any talks on Viet Nam.

An end to attacks by the Communist Viet Cong and a cessation of subversion, infiltration and supply of the guerrillas from outside South Viet Nam.

And Reedy noted: "This matter could be terminated very quickly if aggressors would cease their aggressions." The U.S. position appeared to be that, in the absence of real hopes for negotiations now, the anti-Communist position should be strengthened as much as possible with an eye toward talks sometime in the future.

U.S. Raids
This was underscored by the news from South Viet Nam that American-manned jet bombers had taken part in several raids on Viet Cong positions in the key central region of South Viet Nam.

This broadening of the U.S. role, in a land where some 24,000 American personnel are functioning officially as "advisers" to South Vietnamese forces, was described by the State Department as "in accordance with the government's stated policy of continuous action that is appropriate, fitting and measured."

As for economic aid, Washington authorities said the Saigon government must take the offensive if American economic support is to serve a useful purpose.

In Congress
In Congress, where there have been sharp differences over the past two weeks on the feasibility of negotiations, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield admitted that "Congress is deeply divided about the proper course for us to pursue in Viet Nam." For himself, the Montana Democrat said he favored giving Johnson "as much flexibility as possible."

Mansfield said his letters from home are running 25 to 1 against carrying the war to North Viet Nam and in favor of negotiations.

But an aide to House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said that 80 per cent of Ford's mail backs his position in support of administration policy and opposing any talks now.

Patricia Neal Still Critical
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal still was unconscious and in critical condition today at UCLA Medical Center, nine days after suffering two strokes and undergoing brain surgery.

The British actress, 39, won an Oscar last year for best supporting actress in "Hud."

Wednesday's Developments In Wisconsin Legislature

MADISON (AP) — There were these developments in the Wisconsin Legislature Wednesday.

Senate—Passed legislation to make daylight saving time, which starts the last Sunday in April, end the last Sunday in October instead of the last Sunday in September; four Democrats employed a procedural move to virtually wipe out any chance for an April 6 referendum vote to advise lawmakers if the public favors raising the legal age for buying beer; killed a resolution to make three state jobs—attorney general, secretary of state and treasurer—appointive instead of elective.

Assembly—Declined to remove from committee and take floor action on a resolution urging the federal government to stop using oleomargarine in welfare programs; received legislation to require: night time training for persons taking driver education courses, a person to show a driver's permit before trying out a dealer's car and labeling imported meat offered by retailers.

FWD Reports Largest Peace Era Backlog

Firm Asks Employees To Forego Vacations; Expects to Hire 100

CLINTONVILLE — The largest peace-time order backlog in its corporate history has forced FWD Corp. to forego its usual two-weeks inventory shut down this year and ask its hourly employees to work all or part of their 1965 vacation periods at regular hourly rates plus full vacation pay for time worked.

Philip A. Larnino, FWD vice president and general manager, stated that FWD business for the first four months, ending Jan. 31, of the firm's 1964-65 fiscal year was up 58 per cent over the same period a year ago. The integration of Seagrave production at the FWD plant has also added to the work load. The firm moved all manufacturing of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Seagrave Fire Apparatus, Inc., from Columbus, Ohio, to Clintonville, last summer.

Dentist Recommends Removal Of Climbing Bars From Parks

Board of Health Member Cites Tooth Damage in School, Playground Accidents

Climbing-bars on school and playgrounds are a major cause of falls leading to permanent tooth damage to youngsters, a member of the Appleton Board of Health claimed Wednesday.

"I would say the bars should be eliminated altogether or at least not have a concrete or hard surface underneath them," Dr. Walter Grossman told his colleagues.

Dr. Grossman, a dentist, said he has treated several youngsters who suffered serious dental damage when falling off or bumping themselves on so-called "monkey bars."

"I have talked to other dentists in Appleton and they also say quite a few children are causing damage to their teeth as the result of climbing bar accidents," Dr. Grossman said.

He explained that when children break off their teeth, it either represents a permanent injury or costly dental work. "A tooth isn't like a finger—you can't break it and have it heal up in a short time," Dr. Grossman said.

Major Source He thought the board should recommend that certain types of climbing bars be prohibited at municipal play areas.

"Granted we get youngsters who break their teeth off as a result of other play accidents, but it seems these monkey bars are taking a major toll," Dr. Grossman commented.

Board members suggested the Outagamie County Dental Society be contacted for statistics on the number of dental cases arising out of children slipping or falling off climbing equipment.

Dr. Grossman said he would get the information and also obtain a recommendation from the society.

While on the subject of children's teeth, Dr. Grossman said it was unfortunate Appleton has only one dental hygienist for all the schools.

"There is considerable need for emphasizing dental health," Dr. Grossman said.

Three youths charged with taking a car without owners' consent were released on bonds of $1,000 in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Wednesday and will be arraigned before County Judge Gustave Keller Friday.

Bulkhead Line Is Authorized

Ashwaubenon Gets PSC Approval On River Project

MADISON — The Town of Ashwaubenon today was authorized by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission to establish a bulkhead line in the Fox River for the improvement of navigation and the promotion of industry.

The decision climaxed a campaign of nearly five years by the town to win state approval for the project over the opposition of the State Conservation Department and affiliated conservation organizations.

The regulatory commission explained that it had reversed an earlier denial of the town's application on the basis of a decision of the State Supreme Court late in 1963. The Court had held in a case brought by the town, that the commission had consented to a bulkhead line in its original ruling had construed too narrowly the law of $1,000 in Outagamie County requiring bulkhead construction Court Branch 2 Wednesday and will be arraigned before County Judge Gustave Keller Friday.

Village Clerks Set Hours for Tax Payments

Clerk-treasurers from the three Fox villages have scheduled special office hours to make it possible for residents to pay taxes this weekend, deadline to avoid penalty charges.

Mrs. Katherine Lochschmidt, Kimberly, will collect taxes from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4:30 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Police Chief Earl O. Wolff and Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen recommended that instead of establishing more loading zones, trucks be encouraged to make deliveries and pickups in the downtown area before 9 a.m. daily.

At the same time, Chief Wolff said his department would step up enforcement of double-parking and other ordinances. He said trucks would be allowed a period of time in which warnings could be given and then a stricter policy would be put into effect.

Wolff and Rasmussen said it was necessary that "trucks be given some tolerance downtown."

They cited, however, that trucks or others making deliveries generally feel they should not be required to use the meters when working in the downtown area.

"The delivery men could do much to alleviate the problem of illegal parking by arranging their deliveries between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m. to those merchants without loading zones," the report said.

Ask Merchant Aid Merchants were asked to have persons available at their stores during the two-hour period to accept deliveries.

Wolff and Rasmussen agreed that establishing loading zones in some areas would open up a flood of similar requests in all areas, making enforcement and administration an impossibility.

Before preparing the report, police made an extensive survey of existing College Avenue and adjacent street business establishments, and areas available for loading and unloading.

Authorities said there are about 24 per cent of the establishments without loading spaces which could solve their problem by having 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. delivery periods.

yourself just for that meal — scramble some eggs, or eat leftovers from the day before. Third, avoid foods which are salted when they are processed. Most preserved meats, whether bacon, sausage or others, are salted. Use fresh meats, fish and poultry instead. Fourth, you can get salt substitutes at the grocery or drug store.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

First, let the family salt their food. Second, if occasionally you can't help having some particular food salted before it reaches the table, you can substitute something else for pregnancy, while possible, is very much less probable.

ovulation does not resume. So, of course, there can be no pregnancy or menstruation.

Usually this is at least for six or eight weeks. But in any case, it is best to abstain from sex relation for that length of time.

My suggestion would be to wait until then, have a checkup by your doctor, and have him advise you as to when to resume the pills.

The pills will lessen or stop milk production. Hence if your milk supply is adequate for the baby's needs, the pills should not be taken.

If the milk supply is diminishing or the prospect of weaning is near, then I would wait a little longer — that is, wait until you have stopped nursing before resuming the pills.

Your menstrual rhythm by then should be well established again, which is important in knowing the proper time to take the pills — that is, from the fifth day through the 20th day after the onset of each period.

If my suggestion still leaves you with an interval when pregnancy is possible but you are not yet ready to resume the pills, one of the older methods of birth control would suffice. Your doctor can advise which would be best for you.

Incidentally, nursing does not prevent pregnancy.

No. The purpose of the pills is to prevent ovulation, or release of an ovum or egg. When menopause has occurred, Nature has already halted ovulation.

Appleton High Class Manages Ticket Sales

The eighth hour typing class of Robert Hurlbutt at Appleton High School is in charge of the ticket sales for the school musical "South Pacific" to be presented March 19 and 20. The class, composed of juniors, will do all of the bookkeeping, designing the tickets, and handling ticket sales.

Tickets will be sold starting March 1 at the ticket window in school, through mail orders, and through locations in downtown stores. Seats on both the main floor and the balcony are reserved.

Two student members of the class, Sherry Kean, chairman, and Lynda Frailing, co-chairman, have been selected to direct it. Hurlbutt will serve as faculty adviser. This is the first time that a class has been given the responsibility for ticket sales and the bookkeeping of a school drama production.

A Tense Family Scene is shown from Lawrence University Theatre's production of Henrik Ibsen's "The Wild Duck." The drama is now being staged in Stansbury Theater, Lawrence Music-Drama Center, with nightly performances at 8:15 p.m. through Saturday. Joseph A. Hopfensperger directed the play. 'Well Mounted Production'

In a well mounted production the Lawrence University Theater Wednesday night opened its examination of Henrik Ibsen's first character play, "The Wild Duck." The efficiently played demonstration will continue through Saturday in Stansbury Theater.

"The Wild Duck" was a turning point in Ibsen's career as he veered from his concern with social problems to experiment with the classic dramatic motivation of character development. He reached his peak in this form in "Hedda Gabler" but it appears that in this first venture Ibsen restricted his characters to types.

The play offers a wonderful opportunity to watch the interplay of contrasting philosophies developed by these more or less pure types.

Jack Swanson, in a Liberator-type coiffure, soared idealistically but foolishly as the representative of the dreamer while Philip K. Allen presented a moving portrayal of a driven neurotic, blindly scattering destruction in the guise of salvation.

In contrast, Winsor Whiton presented a solid performance as a common sense compromiser in the part of Dr. Relling whose best medicine was the dispensing of the "sustaining lie."

Three Philosophies
These were the three philosophies presented in this psychological morality play. Trapped in the vortex of their struggle were Alice Wild, who turned in a commendable job as a Norwegian housewife living for the present, and Susan Cartwright, sympathetic as the innocent 14-year-old victim of past indiscretions.

On the edge of the battle, living out the pattern they had set in their youth were the neurotic's father played well by William Barton, and the broken father of the dreamer Jeffrey Jones, who turned in the most well-rounded character portrayal of the evening.

Joseph Hopfensperger is the production's director and designer and in each assignment he has performed well — keeping the characterizations consistent and the action fluid in two fine sets, one elegant and the other shabby. The play is clothed brilliantly by Anne Glasner.

This Ibsen show is wordy and the characters outlined are at times exasperating, but the dramaturgy is so well architected that the audience is carried through the occasional morass of words with intense interest and something like suspense.

Industry May Breed Trees for Paper Making

Research Seeks Ways To Get Fast Growing Pulp Producers

NEW YORK (AP)—The paper industry may someday breed trees especially suited for paper-making, says the new president of the industry's top technical association.

William H. Aiken, president of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry, says genetic improvement of pulp-producing trees is only one long-range direction of industry research.

Industry scientists also are trying to get these to grow faster, top new forest chemicals and develop more disposable paper products.

10 Years Researching
"We've had 10 years of research already on tree-breeding and we're just getting started," Aiken said. "But the goal of producing more usable fiber per tree is certainly a vital one."

Only about one-third of a tree cut for pulp-making today is used.

Aiken, a 48-year-old executive who spent six years in the chemical industry, said a new industry may be taking shape with production of new chemicals from trees.

Study Shows Changes In WSU-O Freshmen College Preparation

OSHKOSH — Some striking changes are taking place in the academic preparation of freshmen entering Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, according to a survey of scores conducted by Dr. Eugene J. Cech, university director of testing.

Scores from the American College Testing program, taken by all freshmen, show a strong increase in upper level percentiles and a marked decrease in the lower category, Dr. Cech said.

The survey covers the freshmen classes entering in 1962, 1963 and 1964. Over the three-year span, the number of WSU-O freshmen in the top percentile has increased almost 9 per cent and in the top two percentiles, 13 per cent. At the same time, the number of freshmen in the bottom percentile has dropped from 23.6 per cent to 8.8 per cent.

Dr. Cech stressed that the scores relate only to those students who showed an interest in college work by taking the test and does not represent a cross section of the entire age group.

Sole possession of a second straight Fox River Valley Conference basketball title is at stake Friday night when the Appleton High School team invades Fond du Lac in the regular-season finale.

Coach Dick Emanuel's Terrors claimed the 1963-4 honors with a 13-1 record. With part-ownership already assured, a victory over the Cardinals would produce another private berth in the FRVC throne room for AHS with a 14-2 finish. Emanuel-coached teams have won two outright crowns and shared another '60 with Green Bay West and Sheboygan Central, now South. The first undisputed honor came in 1957. In all, Appleton's 71-66 verdict over Manitowoc Saturday presented Emanuel with his fourth championship in 12 seasons at the helm of Terror cage fortunes.

State-wise, the Terrors are 15-2 overall and fourth-ranked. Runners-up Manitowoc plays host to Sheboygan North Friday, while the remainder of the final round games find Oshkosh at Green Bay West and East at Southwest. South had concluded its FRVC campaign with a 4-12 slate.

Third-Place Finish

The victor of the Oshkosh-West rematch will finish in third place. West buried the Indians earlier, 75-53. Manitowoc is heavily-favored over North, boasting a 84-74 edge in the initial meeting at Sheboygan. The Terrors, in posting an overwhelming 90-34 win over the Cardinals here, basted the nets on 41 of 82 field goal attempts. The Cardinals, meanwhile, found the range just 24 times in 47 tries for 27 per cent. Undoubtedly, however, the change in environment will affect the shooting of both clubs.

Appleton never trailed in the first meeting with the Cardinals, literally vaulting into a 25-0 lead after the first eight minutes. The Appleton starters saw action in just 20 minutes of the 32-minute rout. Each of the starters, Bruce (Moore) Miller, Neil Weber, Bob Ness, Mark Tepper and John Mummie, scored in double figures. Fondy's Al Koepke, who hit on seven baskets in 13 tries, had 14 points. Sophomore Larry Bornemann, eighth in FRVC individual scoring, was held to one point by the terrific Terror defense.

Terrors ranked among the individual scoring leaders include Miller, sixth 229 points.

Senate to Investigate Premature Signings of College Grid Athletes

Baseball Inquiry Concludes With Allyn's Testimony

BY G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The signing of college football players by professional clubs while the athletes still have college eligibility will be examined next in a Senate investigation of big time sport.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, expects to take testimony over one or two days. He announced no date for the start of these hearings.

The subcommittee is conducting an inquiry in connection with a bill by Hart and other day Hart told a reporter professional basketball and hockey went on record last year as endorsing the bill and there may be no need to call their officials again unless they want to be heard.

He said Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Okla., has requested investigation of the secret signing of college football stars by professional teams and that the request will be granted. Hart said officials of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the National and American Football Leagues would be among the witnesses.

Powerful Voice

He said the subcommittee would examine in depth what steps the two professional leagues are taking to forbid and punish the premature signing of college stars.

The baseball phase of the inquiry reached a tentative end with testimony by Arthur C. Allyn Jr., Chicago White Sox owner, that the American League has "blown the whistle" on domination of its affairs by 20th annual invitational men's bonspiel will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

32 Rinks Will Duel Here for Bonspiel Title

ACC's Mating to Defend Crown in Invitational Meet

BY TERRY GALVIN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Appleton Curling Club's 20th annual invitational men's bonspiel will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. A rank skipped by Appleton's powerful voice, but that from John Mating will defend its title. Appleton's "Dobbie" Robertson, winner of the 1964 senators to limit antitrust law second event, will also compete exemptions for strictly sports this weekend. Five other AAC aspects of professional baseball, rinks will be selected by the football, basketball and hockey club's games chairman.

The seven Appleton rinks will wound up its investigation of 25 visiting units in the 3-professional baseball Wednesday, 4-event test.

The first draw is set for 11 30 about after the controversial am Friday. Two ACC rinks will meet in one of the games. Columbia Broadcasting System, in the other three games, yet-to-which the subcommittee has been selected Appleton rinks will be investigating.

Meet Green Bay's Brebner, Charles O. Finley, owner-Waltham's Dewey and Portage's Eulberg, respectively.

Duels Chicago Rink

At 1 45 p.m. Friday, Waupaca's Pinkerton will duel Chicago's Murray. Waupaca's Landis will meet Lakeshore's Scott. Waupaca's Malone will meet Chicago's Gibbs and two more ACC rinks will duel.

At 4 p.m. Friday Wausau's Goldberg meets Wauwatosa's Bowley. Green Bay's Michael meets Portage's York. Sault Ste. Marie's Nash plays Milwaukee's Huston and Wauwatosa's Paige duels Waltham's Davis.

In the 6 15 p.m. Friday pairings, it will be Monroe's Adam against Madison's MacLennan. Green Bay's Maier against Madison's Botham, Clintonville's Renke against Milwaukee's Cottam and Pownette's Stoltenberg against Milwaukee's Fitzgerald.

Competition, which continues.

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Happy to return to the friendly confines of Alexander Gymnasium, the Lawrence University basketball squad will close out its 1964-5 home season with a pair of games this weekend.

Cornell visits Lawrence at 7 30 p.m. Friday, and Grinnell will invade the Viking court at 1 30 p.m. Saturday. The Vikes close out the campaign with two tilts on the road the following weekend.

The main reason for Coach Clyde Rusk's pleasure at bringing the Vikes back to their home court is that seven of the team's eight Midwest Conference losses this season have occurred on the road. At home, the Vikings boast six victories in seven games and are currently working on a 5-game home court win streak.

The latest addition to the road-jinx that has been plaguing the Vikes was the 68-62 loss suffered at rival Ripon College last Saturday. Ripon used the victory to climb into first place in the conference with a 9-5 record, while St. Olaf is right on the Redmen's heels with a 9-6 mark.

With only two weekends of play remaining in the circuit, the mathematical possibility exists that the top six teams (providing there is the right combination of wins and losses) could end up in a tie for the championship with identical 11-7 records.

Cornell, with a 6-5 record, is still in the thick of the conference race and will be out to preserve those chances with a win over the Vikes. Sparkplug of the Rams' attack is Jack Grams who scored 36 points in two games last weekend to take over second in the conference scoring race.

Grams has scored 244 points in 11 games for an average of 22.1 per contest. Jeff Frantz, Grinnell, is the leader with a 24.2 average on 267 points in 11 games.

While the Vikes will have to keep their eye on Grams, they cannot forget about Rich Glasner, Grams' running mate, who has scored 226 points and is fifth in the conference.

Tom Steinmetz continues to set the scoring pace for the Vikes. Steinmetz has scored 246 in league play for a 17.5 average and has 327, overall, for an 18.2 mark. Earl Hoover ranks next in line with 240 in the conference and 305 overall. Steinmetz ranks 11th in the conference and Hoover is 12th.

Has 70.8 Average

In the 18 games played overall, Lawrence is averaging 70.8 points per game while opponents have a 77.7 mark.

When Grinnell visits the Lawrence court Saturday afternoon, the spotlight will be on Frantz. The 6-2 junior had a tremendous weekend last Friday and Saturday hitting 41 points against Coe and 33 against Beloit to take over the scoring lead. Grinnell has only a 4-7 conference record but last weekend came up with a surprising 105-100 victory over Coe in overtime.

Saturday's game will be the final home appearance for three Lawrence seniors: Gordy Bond, Bill Prange and Earl Hoover. They will be playing their final tilts on the home hardwood.

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay sparred through an exhibition for patients at the Hines Veterans Administration Hospital Wednesday.

Clay boxed 15 minutes against his brother, Rudy, before an audience of about 200, including wheelchair and amputee cases, in the hospital gym.

At the close, Clay pretended to be flattened by his brother, rose to his knees and then rolled over while the crowd applauded loudly.

Seven At-Large Cage Teams Accept NCAA Tournament Berths

NIT Bids Accepted By Boston College, Villanova, Detroit

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Penn State and Dayton, which will play in the NCAA, and Boston College, which will appear in the NIT, celebrated acceptance of their bids to the two major post-season college basketball tournaments by bowing virtually ball tournaments by bowing over Bucknell, Louisville and Wichita. Ron Krick's 19 points Boston University, respectively, paced the Bearcats to their home court triumph.

The actual competition on the courts Wednesday night took a back seat to the spirited bidding earlier in the day for teams to fill the 23-team NCAA field and the 14-team NIT.

The NCAA tourney, which determines the national champion, landed seven at-large teams — Providence, Penn State, Dayton, DePaul, Houston, Colorado State University and Oklahoma City. The NIT snared Villanova, Boston College and Detroit.

Because of what a spokesman termed a lack of teams with good records west of the Mississippi, the NCAA cut its field to 23 from 25 and eliminated the first round of the Far West regionals originally scheduled for Corvallis, Ore. Just one more at-large team is needed to complete the field since 15 conference champions automatically qualify.

Opens March 8

The NCAA opens with first-round games March 8 in Philadelphia and Lubbock, Tex., and ends at Portland, Ore., on March 20. The NIT opens in New York on March 11 and also ends March 20.

Penn State, which will oppose the Ivy League champion, in the first game of a tripleheader, March 8 at Philadelphia, extended its winning streak to 12 and upped its over-all record to 18-3 by whipping Bucknell 68-52. Carver Clinton paced the Nittany Lions with 22 points as they remained unbeaten at home.

Dayton, 18-5, invaded Louisville and beat the Cardinals from the Missouri Valley Conference 75-70. Jack Warrell led the Flyers and 22 points.

John Austin scored 27 points to lead Boston College over BU 90-65 in a first-round game of the Beanpot Tourney at Medford, Mass. Northeastern Beat Tufts 73-65 in the other first-round game and will play BC in the final next Monday.

Connecticut, virtually certain to compete in the NCAA as the Yankee Conference champ, made it 12 in a row and 20-2 over-all by defeating Manhattan 80-75 in overtime at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It was the first game of a doubleheader. NYU, hopeful of an NIT bid, whipped Notre Dame 60-54 in the second game.

Cincinnati, whose coach Ed Jucker announced his resignation Tuesday effective with the close of the season, upset St. Louis 69-60 thereby virtually clinching the MVC title for over Bucknell, Louisville and Wichita. Ron Krick's 19 points Boston University, respectively, paced the Bearcats to their home court triumph.

All of the top ten teams in the Associated Press poll were idle.

Area schools joining Ahmerst in its regional are New London, Manawa and Iola-Scandinavia. The quarter-finals will start at 7 p.m. Friday, with Saturday's semis at 1:30 and the finals at 7 p.m.

Bonduel wrestlers will compete in the Coleman regional.

At Seymour it appears that Dennis Stuliff (Seymour 14-1-2) and K. Hitzman (Marion, 12-3-0) will be battling it out in the finish of the 95-pound class.

Dick Dunks (Seymour 11-1-0) seems to be unchallenged at 103.

Either Wayne Rohde (Shawano, 12-2-0) or McCoy should go to the wire at 112. They may get some strong competition from Dale Hodkiewicz (Seymour, 10-4-1).

Seymour's Ron Mueller (12-3-1) has the nod at 120.

Kimberly's Don Thiele (7-2-0) and Gary Millshe (8-2-0) at 127 and 133 respectively appear to be the men to beat.

At 138, the nod goes to Pete Bohman, of Hortonville, (10-2) over Ralph Smits (11-5) of Seymour.

Ron Roskom, of Seymour, (13-2-0) or Terry Kloehn, of Hortonville (13-2-1) appear to be a toss-up at 145.

Hortonville's Mike Bohman with an unblemished record (16-0) is the man to beat at 154.

Allen Krull also of Hortonville sports a perfect (16-0) record at 165. He may get some competition from Huttenberg.

Ken Kraft, Seymour's nifty 180 pounder (15-2-0) should go all the way at this weight.

Of the heavy weights, Seymour's Fran Coenen sports the best winning record at (9-4).

On the basis of records available, it appears to be a 2-way battle for the Regional Crown between the Seymour Indians conference games include Dick (10-1) and the Hortonville Polar Bears (9-4). Appleton could be a "dark horse."

Hank Bauer Flag for Bo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer, with a reputation as a prognosticator to uphold, has predicted an American League pennant for the Baltimore Orioles this year.

Bauer shocked some Orioles fans last spring when he predicted the New York Yankees would win the championship and Baltimore would finish third. Some critics thought he had given up before the season even started.

But Bauer, realistic and candid, turned out to be correct. The Orioles did finish third, but only two games behind the pennant winning Yanks.

"I've got to be a pronosticator again," Bauer said, sounding bit like his old Yankee skipper Casey Stengel. "I don't know how to spell the word but I know it means something about predicting."

"Anyhow, I'm going for broke this time. I think this year's ball club is good enough to win the pennant."

Experience Edge

Near the end of last season close pennant race, Bauer used to say the only edge the Yankees held was the experience of having been under such pressure the past. Now, Bauer thinks the Orioles have profited from the stretch-drive exposure.

"They got close enough to smell the pennant," he said. "That experience under pressure is darn valuable."

"Another thing, I think some of our young pitchers are ready to help. I mean Dave McNally, Franck Bertaina, Darol Knowles and Dave Vineyard."

Bauer also hopes Jim Palmer, a 19-year-old right-hander who was 11-3 with Aberdeen in the Northern League last year might be the 1965 Wally Bunker. Last season, Bunker won 16 games as a rookie after only half season of pro ball.

"They tell me he's faster than Bunker," Bauer said. "But whether he has what Bunker

National League Stronger With Atlanta, Says Giles

ATLANTA (AP) — "The National League will be stronger for the next 10 years with Atlanta in it than it would have been with Milwaukee," league President Warren Giles said Wednesday.

"This is not an anti-Milwaukee sentiment; it's pro-Atlanta," the baseball official said. "The potential of this city is without bounds. I have great faith in this city."

Giles made his first visit to the city's $18 million stadium, now under construction.

The Milwaukee Braves are due to move to Atlanta for the 1966 season.

"I've wanted our league to get a team in Atlanta for a long time," Giles said. "We were the first on the West Coast and the Southwest, too."

He was asked about the contention that Milwaukee will be the first major league city ever to be left without a team due to transfer.

"You go by areas now," Giles replied. "This is the Southeast area's team. The Milwaukee area will still have baseball because there are several teams within 100 miles or so of the city."

Marquette '5' Meets UW-Min Arena Tonight

Warriors Favored To Snap 7-Game Winless Streak

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette University's basketball team takes on Wisconsin-Milwaukee tonight, and Warrior Coach Al McGuire thinks his team might pull out of its tailspin this time.

UWM, enjoying less than prosperity as it travels the independent's trail, learned Wednesday that one of its top rebounders, 6-foot-4 Jim Frank, will be out of action for at least a week because of circulatory ailment in his right leg.

The Warriors, 7-15 for the season, will be attempting to snap a seven-game losing streak and UWM, 8-13, will be seeking its first victory over Marquette in 22 meetings.

Backboard Advantage

Rebounding was the subject of discussion by both coaches.

McGuire said that if his Warriors "have any advantage it's on the backboards." The record shows that few teams have out-rebounded the Warriors this season.

The leading Warrior rebounders are Tom Flynn with 222 and Paul Carbins with 253. Between them they have accounted for nearly half the 1,061 rebounds grabbed by Marquette this season.

Carbins was the big concern of UWM Coach Ray Krzaska. "It will be tough to face the best rebounding center you've encountered all year without a center," said Krzaska, referring to the loss of Frank.

McGuire said the Warriors will attempt to slow down the UWM fast break and will assign guard Rocky Caldwell to hound Larry Reed, the Cardinals' top scorer.

Krzaska said, "our best chance for victory is to have a good overall shooting night." He added that the Cardinals have "good over-all scoring balance."

Reed, averaging 21 points a game, tops four Cardinals in double figures. Flynn is the top Warrior scorer with an average of 16.1.

Bills Obtain Denver's Billy Joe for Gilchrist

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Cook more than the $28,000 he received.

The 29-year-old fullback had his share of problems both on and off the playing field.

The final straw on the field came last Nov. 15 when he refused to reenter the Boston game just before halftime and was accused of flooring a fine football player in return, complained that quarterback policeman during a struggle in Saban said of Joe.

"I had to come," Coach Lou Saban said. "The situation between Cookie and the Bills had become impossible. I felt a change was necessary."

Gilchrist could not be reached for comment. He had said previously that, on at least five occasions, Saban wanted to trade him.

Last year, before he signed his 1964 contract, Gilchrist asked to be traded. The move was interpreted as an attempt to force the Bills to pay him

Celtics Down Lakers, 97-95

Sam Jones, Heinsohn Pace Boston Victory; Detroit, Bullets Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With all the success the Boston Celtics have had in the past nine seasons, they never have had a man win a scoring championship.

The 1964-65 season won't be an exception the way Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson are going, but it looks like they may have a contender for the future.

Sam Jones — the Celtics' new "super star" according to Coach Red Auerbach — set a Celtics' season scoring record with his 27 points Wednesday night against Los Angeles. Jones now has 1,763 points, 21 more than the previous high of 1,742 scored by Tommy Heinsohn during the 1961-62 campaign.

Jones ranks fourth in the league scoring race, averaging 25.9 points a game.

Jones got a lot of help from Heinsohn and Bill Russell as the Celtics squeaked by the Lakers 97-95.

In other games, Detroit edged Philadelphia 106-104, Baltimore whipped New York 111-100 and St. Louis downed San Francisco 111-103.

Difficulty Starting

Boston had difficulty starting at Los Angeles and five minutes had elapsed before Jones scored the first Celtics field goal. Boston finally pulled in front before the half.

Heinsohn then contributed four long jump shots boosting the margin to 19 points toward the end of the third period.

The Lakers closed fast in the last quarter and a basket and a foul shot by Russell were necessary to cement the victory in the final 12 seconds.

Rookie Joe Caldwell sparked Detroit's uphill victory over Philadelphia. Caldwell scored on eight of nine field goal attempts, including the last seven in a row in the fourth quarter. Caldwell hit on two jumpers for a 104-101 Pistons lead and he also scored the final basket.

Baltimore downed New York behind the fourth-quarter scoring of Walt Bellamy, who only last week was fined and removed from the starting line-up. Bellamy contributed 13 points to Baltimore from a one-point lead in the 11-point triumph.

St. Louis' victory over San Francisco was its eighth straight over the Warriors this season. Zelmo Beaty of the Hawks and Nate Thurmond of San Francisco shared scoring honors with 26 points each. The loss was the Warriors' seventh straight and 31st in their last 34 starts.

Henri Richard Stars As Canadiens Rout New York Rangers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although Henri Richard knew he wouldn't be able to observe his birthday this month, he still has managed to get in quite a lot of celebrating.

The Montreal center, who will but yet won't be 29 in a few days, scored three goals and added two assists Wednesday night in the Canadiens' 6-1 triumph over New York.

Chicago edged Detroit 3-2 and Boston defeated Toronto 3-1 in other National Hockey League games.

Richard's problem is that he was born Feb. 29, 1936. Thus he has observed only seven birthdays instead of 28. But he was more than a mere youngster to the Rangers.

His goal midway through the first period tied the game 1-1. He first scored two more goals YMC — his 19th and 20th of the season — in the second period, putting the contest beyond New York's reach.

Seven At-Large Cage Teams Accept NCAA Tournament Berths

NIT Bids Accepted By Boston College, Villanova, Detroit

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Penn State and Dayton, which will play in the NCAA, and Boston College, which will appear in the NIT, celebrated acceptance of their bids to the two major post-season college basketball tournaments by bowing virtually over Bucknell, Louisville and Boston University, respectively.

The actual competition on the courts Wednesday night took a back seat to the spirited bidding earlier in the day for teams to fill the 23-team NCAA field and the 14-team NIT.

The NCAA tourney, which determines the national champion, landed seven at-large teams — Providence, Penn State, Dayton, DePaul, Houston, Colorado State University and Oklahoma City. The NIT snared Villanova, Boston College and Detroit.

Because of what a spokesman termed a lack of teams with good records west of the Mississippi, the NCAA cut its field to 23 from 25 and eliminated the first round of the Far West regionals originally scheduled for Corvallis, Ore. Just one more at-large team is needed to complete the field since 15 conference champions automatically qualify.

Opens March 8

The NCAA opens with first-round games March 8 in Philadelphia and Lubbock, Tex., and ends at Portland, Ore., on March 20. The NIT opens in New York on March 11 and also ends March 20.

Penn State, which will oppose the Ivy League champion, in the first game of a tripleheader March 8 at Philadelphia, extended its winning streak to 12 and upped its over-all record to 18-3 by whipping Bucknell 58-52. Carver Clinton paced the Nittany Lions with 22 points as they remained unbeaten at home.

Dayton, 18-6, invaded Louisville and beat the Cardinals from the Missouri Valley Conference 75-70. Jack Warrell led the Flyers and 22 points.

John Austin scored 27 points to lead Boston College over BU 90-65 in a first-round game of the Beanpot Tourney at Medford, Mass. Northeastern Beat Tufts 73-65 in the other first-round game and will play BC in the final next Monday.

Connecticut, virtually certain to compete in the NCAA as the Yankee Conference champ, made it 12 in a row and 20-2 over-all by defeating Manhattan 80-75 in overtime at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It was the first game of a doubleheader. NYU, hopeful of an NIT bid, whipped Notre Dame 60-54 in the second game.

Cincinnati, whose coach Ed Jucker announced his resignation Tuesday effective with the close of the season, upset St. Louis 69-60 thereby virtually clinching the MVC title for over Bucknell, Louisville and Wichita. Ron Krick's 19 points Boston University, respectively, paced the Bearcats to their home court triumph.

All of the top ten teams in the Associated Press poll were idle.

National League Stronger With Atlanta, Says Giles

ATLANTA (AP) — "The National League will be stronger for the next 10 years with Atlanta in it than it would have been with Milwaukee," league President Warren Giles said Wednesday.

"This is not an anti-Milwaukee sentiment, it's pro-Atlanta," the baseball official said. "The potential of this city is without bounds. I have great faith in this city."

Giles made his first visit to the city's $18 million stadium, now under construction.

The Milwaukee Braves are due to move to Atlanta for the 1966 season.

"I've wanted our league to get a team in Atlanta for a long time," Giles said. "we were the dicted the New York Yankees would win the championship and Baltimore would finish third. Some critics thought he had given up before the season even started.

But Bauer, realistic and candid, turned out to be correct. The Orioles did finish third, but only two games behind the pennant winning Yanks.

"I've got to be a prognosticator again," Bauer said, sounding a bit like his old Yankee skipper, Casey Stengel. "I don't know how to spell the word but I know it means something about predicting."

"Anyhow, I'm going for broke this time. I think this year's ball club is good enough to win the pennant."

Experience Edge
Near the end of last season's close pennant race, Bauer used to say the only edge the Yanks held was the experience of having been under such pressure in the past. Now, Bauer thinks the Orioles have profited from their stretch-drive exposure.

"They got close enough to smell the pennant," he said. "That experience under pressure is darn valuable."

"Another thing, I think some of our young pitchers are ready to help. I mean Dave McNally, Frank Bertina, Darold Knowles and Dave Vineyard."

Bauer also hopes Jim Palmer, a 19-year-old right-hander who was 11-3 with Aberdeen in the Northern League last year, might be the 1965 Wally Bunker. Last season, Bunker won 19 games as a rookie after only a half season of pro ball.

Warriors Favored To Snap 7-Game Winless Streak

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette University's basketball team takes on Wisconsin-Milwaukee tonight, and Warrior Coach Al McGuire thinks his team might pull out of its tailspin this time.

UWM, enjoying less than prosperity as it travels the independent trail, learned Wednesday that one of its top rebounders, 6-foot-4 Jim Frank, will be out of action for at least a week because of circulatory ailment in his right leg.

The Warriors, 7-15 for the season, will be attempting to snap a seven-game losing streak and UWM, 8-13, will be seeking its first victory over Marquette in 22 meetings.

Backboard Advantage

Rebounding was the subject of discussion by both coaches.

McGuire said that if his Warriors "have any advantage it's on the backboards." The record shows that few teams have out-rebounded the Warriors this season.

The leading Warrior rebounders are Tom Flynn with 222 and Paul Carbins with 253. Between them they have accounted for nearly half the 1,061 rebounds grabbed by Marquette this season.

Carbins was the big concern of UWM Coach Ray Krzyska.

"It will be rough to face the best rebounding center you've encountered all year without a center," said Krzyska, referring to the loss of Frank.

McGuire said the Warriors will attempt to slow down the UWM fast break and will assign guard Rocky Calvelli to hound Larry Reed, the Cardinals' top scorer.

Krzyska said, "our best chance for victory is to have a good overall shooting night." He added that the Cardinals have "good over-all scoring balance."

Reed, averaging 21 points a game, tops four Cardinals in double figures. Flynn is the top Warrior scorer with an average of 16.1.

The Bills traded Gilchrist to the Denver Broncos Wednesday for fullback Billy Joe, the AFL's Rookie of the Year in 1963. No cash was involved.

"It had to come," Coach Lou Saban said. "The situation between Rocky and the Bills had become impossible. I felt a change was necessary."

Gilchrist could not be reached for comment. He had said previously that, on at least five occasions, Saban wanted to trade him.

Celtics Down Lakers, 97-95

Sam Jones, Heinsohn Pace Boston Victory; Detroit, Bullets Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With all the success the Boston Celtics have had in the past nine seasons, they never have had a man win a scoring championship.

The 1964-65 season won't be an exception the way Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson are going, but it looks like they may have a contender for the future.

Sam Jones — the Celtics' new "super star" — according to Coach Red Auerbach — set a Celtics' season scoring record with his 27 points Wednesday night against Los Angeles. Jones now has 1,763 points, 21 more than the previous high of 1,742 scored by Tommy Heinsohn during the 1961-62 campaign. Jones ranks fourth in the league scoring race, averaging 25.9 points a game.

Jones got a lot of help from Heinsohn and Bill Russell as the Celtics squeaked by the Lakers 97-95.

In other games, Detroit edged Philadelphia 106-104, Baltimore whipped New York 111-100 and St. Louis downed San Francisco 111-103.

Difficulty Starting

Boston had difficulty starting at Los Angeles and five minutes had elapsed before Jones scored the first Celtics field goal. Boston finally pulled in front before the half.

Heinsohn then contributed four long jump shots boosting the margin to 19 points toward the end of the third period.

The Lakers closed fast in the last quarter and a basket and a foul shot by Russell were necessary to cement the victory in the final 12 seconds.

Rookie Joe Caldwell sparked Detroit's uphill victory over Philadelphia. Caldwell scored on eight of nine field goal attempts, including the last seven in a row in the fourth quarter.

Caldwell hit on two jumpers for a 104-101 Pistons lead and he also scored the final basket.

Baltimore downed New York behind the fourth-quarter scoring of Walt Bellamy, who only last week was fined and removed from the starting line-up.

Joe, 24, is nearly as big as Bellamy contributed 13 points to Gilchrist, Joe, 6-foot-2 and 250 pounds, is considered a sturdy blocker, dependable on short to mid-range and faster than Gil-

Black Hawks Retain 3-Point Lead in NHL

Henri Richard Stars As Canadiens Rout New York Rangers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although Henri Richard knew he wouldn't be able to observe his birthday this month, he still has managed to get in quite a lot of celebrating.

The Montreal center, who will be 29 in a few days, scored three goals and added two assists Wednesday night in the Canadiens' 6-1 triumph over New York.

Chicago edged Detroit 3-2 and Boston defeated Toronto 3-1 in other National Hockey League games.

Richard's problem is that he was born Feb. 29, 1936. Thus he has observed only seven birthdays instead of 28. But he was more than a mere youngster to the Rangers.

His goal midway through the first period tied the game 1-1. He fired across two more goals in the 19th and 20th of the season — in the second period, putting the contest beyond New York's reach.

Turning playmaker, Richard apiece for the Bears.

assisted on third-period goals by Dave Balon and Claude Provost.

Richard said after the game that he had "felt good all day" and knew he was in for a big night, "but I didn't think it would turn out this good."

Despite Richard's play, the second-place Canadiens failed to gain ground on league-leading Chicago. The Black Hawks maintained their three-point margin by scoring one goal in each period, then holding off a late Detroit rally.

Bill Hay tallied in the first period. Ken Wharram in the second and Stan Mikita in the third. Mikita's goal, which won the game, was his 73rd point of the season. He leads the NHL in that department.

Floyd Smith finally scored for the Red Wings at 4:53 of the final period. Alex Delvecchio added a Detroit goal at 15:07.

All-Stars Defeat 'Y' Grade Champs, 31-19

The All-Stars defeated the league champion Bears, 31-19, to conclude the season in the YMCA Boys' Grade School basketball circuit.

John Lappen paced the Stars with 14 points. George Binek and Scott Dykema returned six points apiece for the Bears.

Bobcats Lose, Set for Final 2 Home Tilts

GREEN BAY — Burdened by a 5-game losing streak, Green Bay's Bobcats (10-16) are striving to regroup for a big finish this weekend.

The Bobcats, now certain to close out with the first sub-500 campaign in their 7-year history, end regular season play as hosts to St. Paul's United States Hockey League-leading Steers Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Bobcats, presently in last place, also need a sweep to stand a chance of earning a berth in the USHL tournament, to be held at Waterloo March 13-14. Even with a double Green Bay victory, Marquette (10-12) must lose three of its four remaining games with Waterloo for the Bobcats to qualify.

The Bays will be without the services of goalie Oystein Melander for the final set. The 26-year-old netminder's left jaw was fractured in a warmup prior to Tuesday night's 7-2 loss at Marquette. Melander, Norway's 1964 Olympic goalie, played the entire first period, fending off the staggering total of 29 shots, before the break; was discovered in the dressing room at the first intermission. He was replaced in the nets by veteran Jim Mattson.

At Sunday afternoon's finale, presentation of a new 1965 sport coupe will be made to the winner of the Bobcats' season-long slogan contest.

New Tax Plan Would Bring in $130 Million

Knowles Bill Is Ready for Presentation

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles has prepared a revenue bill that would balance his record budget through fractional increase in income tax rates and the extension of sales taxes at a reduced levy of 2.5 per cent.

An additional one cent a package tax on cigarettes and the elimination of graduated rates in the corporate income tax complete the governor's package.

Proposal Ready

Knowles was known to have the proposal ready for presentation to lawmakers. But in a meeting in the executive mansion Wednesday night he gave only a partial outline to Republican leaders.

Several GOP lawmakers were said to have turned the topic of the meeting to Knowles' 1965-67 budget proposal which calls for a record outlay of $332 million. The governor told newsmen today that he had not closed the door on alternative methods of raising needed revenues. "Our exploration will go on and every attempt will be made to avoid an unnecessary stalemate in this area," Knowles said.

Staff members of the Department of Administration and the Tax Department have been working for more than a week on a set of alternative revenue proposals. At least three plans were known to have been readied and Knowles was reliably reported as favoring the proposition that would cut sales taxes one-half of one per cent and broadly extend the levy.

The Republican chief executive's tax plan would raise about $20 million more than the $110 million needed to balance the new budget.

Sales Tax

Wisconsin now has a three per cent sales tax on selected items and the governor's proposal would extend the levy to all purchases and services short of food, clothing and prescription drugs.

To make the sales tax extension more acceptable to a Democratic controlled Assembly, the governor will ask that the sales tax rate be cut to 2.5 per cent.

Anticipated revenue from the sales tax extension would come to $85 million in the biennium.

New Revenue

Another $30 million in new revenue would be netted through a one-fifth of one per cent increase in state income tax rates. The increase would be applied across the board.

An additional penny a pack tax on cigarettes would yield $8.8 million. And eliminating the graduated rates in the corporate income tax in favor of a standard levy of 7 per cent would add another $5.1 million to the take.

The $20 million not immediately called for by the budget could be used to finance some spending programs recommended by Knowles.

Major Proposal

A major proposal on the additional list calls for a $14 million expenditure to cover the cost of the state assuming contributions its employees now make to their retirement fund.

The third in a series of tax talks with Democratic and Republican leaders was held behind closed doors in the executive office this morning.

Knowles was expected to use the meeting to expand on his tax approach.

Friday Fair and Warmer Finally

Secret Anti-Personnel Weapons

Jets Carry War to Guerrillas In Dense Jungle of Viet Nam

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Armed with secret antipersonnel weapons, U.S. jet aircraft are carrying the war to the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam's dense jungles.

The men manning American F100 fighter-bombers and B57 twin-jet medium bombers won't talk about the equipment which makes the high-speed jets more effective in an attack on scattered ground forces.

Small Bombs

But one recent development has been a bomb casing which opens after being dropped and lays down a line of small antipersonnel bombs more than 100 feet long.

U.S. Air Force pilots here feel the effects of their bombing and strafing of the Viet Cong will be more psychological—inside and outside Viet Nam — than tactical.

U.S. officials in Saigon disclosed Wednesday that the F100s and B57s, flown exclusively by Americans, had been unleashed for the first time last week against the Communists in South Viet Nam.

U.S. jets, some of them operating from Da Nang, had previously bombed Communist supply lines in Laos and had participated in the retaliatory air strikes against North Viet Nam.

Jungle War

Wednesday, they ran strafing and bombing runs to help out beleaguered ground forces in mountainous Binh Dinh and Pleiku provinces.

The mission pointed up both strong and weak points of mixing jets with the jungle war.

The jets blasted the flanks of a road near a government battalion, laying down suppressive fire while U.S. Army helicopters circled and picked up soldiers from the spot.

Their work effectively sealed off the helicopter landing zone from the enemy. Fire was directed on orders from a forward air controller circling the target area in a slow spotter plane.

None of the F100 jet pilots saw any Viet Cong on the ground, although they received some groundfire. The B57s came from Bien Hoa.

"At 450 miles per hour, you don't see much of anything," Lt. Joseph C. T. Wang, 25, of Philadelphia said.

View Limited

MacLachlan, commander of the F100s at Da Nang, said during his missions in Korea he "could see trucks, trenches and foxholes. For the most part, you don't have that sort of thing here."

The American pilots declined to say how many missions they have flown in South Viet Nam so far.

Capt. Richard L. Russell, 30, of Waterbury, Vt., said: "We are glad to help out with close support. We're close to the army, and sometimes they get caught real short. We're glad to help out."

Ex-Strongman of Viet Nam Headed for U. S.

Khanh Reportedly Favors Extending War to North

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh is headed for the United States with some gloomy views about the prospects for the war in South Viet Nam.

Those who know the deposed strongman of Saigon report that he feels the war will be lost this year — unless the Americans decide to extend it directly to the Communist North, even at the risk of hostilities with Red China.

Khanh, now designated an ambassador-at-large to lay Saigon's case against the North before the U.N. Security Council, is known to believe that the only chance to save Viet Nam from a Communist take-over is to convert the limited open hostilities with North Viet Nam in Indochina to a general war between Red China and the West.

Inside South Viet Nam he probably is far from alone in this viewpoint. Thus, in coming South, Khanh has clashed sharply with U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor. Those who know the assessment of the prospects. He

Failure to Register Charged

Communist Party Indicted Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury re-indicted the Communist party today for failing to register as a Communist action organization.

In an attempt to avoid a pit-fall that led to a Court of Appeals reversal of a previous party conviction on the same 11 days from Feb. 13 to Feb. 23, the grand jury specifically charged the party with failing to file the required supplementary registration statement, including a list available to register for the party.

The new indictment says the party had knowledge of the printing presses and reproduction equipment controlled by its prosecution, and the Supreme Court refused to review someone willing to sign the registration of all money received and its decision.

The party was named in a 12-count indictment Dec. 1, 1961, and convicted a year later on all counts. The indictment re-counts it was sentenced to pay a $120,000 fine. However, the Court of Appeals reversed the conviction, ruling that the government had failed to prove that the party failed to file the re-willing volunteer, unaided possible self-incrimination, was available and willing to register of the names of members, their aliases and addresses: a list of the court ruled that the government had not met this test in the prosecution, and the Supreme Court refused to review its decision.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, center, was an invited guest Wednesday night at the annual party of the Chowder and Marching Club in Virginia. He is flanked by former Vice President Richard Nixon, left, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, of Michigan. The club was formed by House Republicans in 1949. (AP Wirephoto)

Little Opposition Noted

Favorable Action On Schools Urged

BY JOHN DOYLE

Post-Crescent News Service

MADISON — A nearly united front was presented here Wednesday at a public hearing by Wisconsin Education Committee the Assembly Education committee on proposed legislation to secure $2.4 million to plan four-year universities in northeastern and southeastern Wisconsin.

Business, labor, local educators, at least eight legislators, including Lt. Gov. Patrick Lucey, and state education officials urged the committee to act favorably.

However, Committee Chairman Angelo Greco, a Milwaukee Democrat, said no action would be taken until after a joint hearing by committees of the senate and assembly.

Representing Green Bay at the hearing was Mayor Roman Denissen and John Borgenson. George Greenwood, Kaukauna, represented the Northeastern Wisconsin Education Committee.

Approval Urged

Urging the committee's approval of the bill were State Sen. Robert W. Warren, and Assemblyman Cletus Vanderperren, both from Green Bay.

Assemblymen Lawrence Kaska and Jerome Quinn were present in the crowded hearing room. Both have stated they favor the legislation.

Milwaukee Objects

The only opposition to the bill came from a representative of the Metropolitan Milwaukee Association of Commerce and the

Third Generation Industry Official Predicts Growth

NEW YORK (AP)—A spokesman for Wisconsin's billion-dollar paper industry says steady expansion is in store for one of the state's fastest growing products, quality papers.

"The quality paper market is really moving," said George W. Mead II, a crewcut, Yale-educated vice president of Consolidated Papers Inc. of Wisconsin Rapids, a major magazine-paper producer.

Part of 2,000-Man Detachment

600 Battle-Dressed Koreans Are In Saigon for Non-Combat Duty

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong positions only 100 yards away today as government troops in battle gear moved to get out of Saigon today for noncombat duty. The rest of a 2,000-man detachment is due in the next few days.

Korea thus became the first foreign country other than the United States to commit a substantial number of troops to the war against the Communist Viet Cong. Korea already has several surgical teams and several special advisory groups in Viet Nam.

Engineer Personnel

The new contingent consists chiefly of engineering and construction personnel whose main task will be repair and construction of roads, bridges and railway facilities.

But one Korean officer said: "We are capable of taking care of ourselves. We shall provide our own defenses."

Vietnamese howitzers blasted

Roads Cut

The fighting presumably was taking a heavy toll of Communist forces. But preliminary reports said the government forces suffered nearly 100 casualties — 10 killed, 30 wounded and 58 missing — in the series of fierce encounters along a road near the provincial capital of Ham Tan on the South China Sea.

The shelling presumably was taking a heavy toll of Communist forces. But preliminary reports said the government forces suffered nearly 100 casualties — 10 killed, 30 wounded and 58 missing — in the series of fierce encounters along a road near the provincial capital of Ham Tan on the South China Sea.

Hit Viet Cong

Sixteen U.S. Air Force jets, eight B57s and eight F100s, hammered Viet Cong positions in the Mang Yang Pass between Pleiku and Qui Nhon today, Arnett reported, to help out a special forces company trapped in a Communist ambush.

American jets also struck today against areas of Phouc Tuy Province, 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

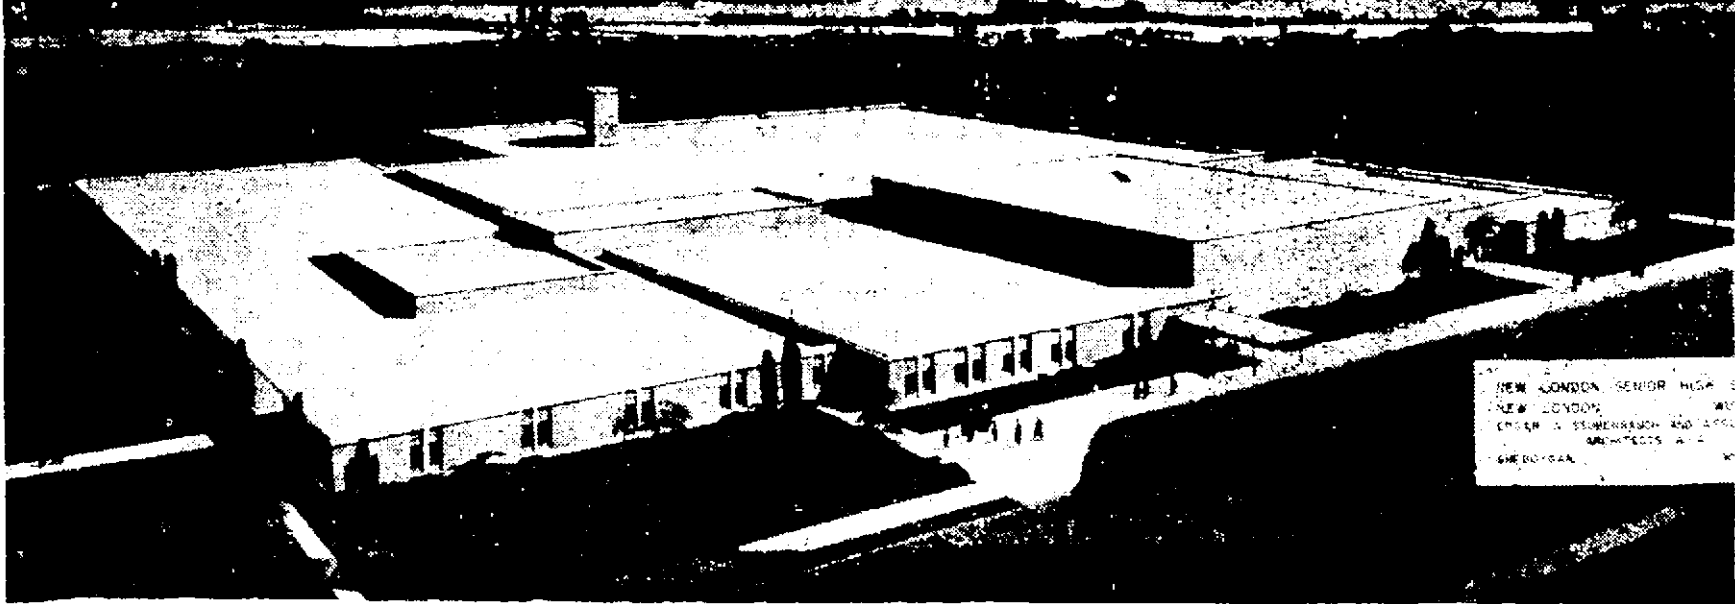

Twenty-five U.S. Army helicopters lifted about 600 Vietnamese troops for an attack Wednesday in Chau Doc Province, in the Mekong River delta 110 miles southwest of Saigon.

Bridges Blown

Despite heavy ground fire, the division began hacking its way through Viet Cong roadblocks and was having to fight for every mile on such key roads as coastal Route No. 1 and Mountain Road 19. The main road between Qui today.

Clintonville Faculty Asks Salary Hikes

Insurance Benefit Gain Also Sought

CLINTONVILLE — The Board of Education Tuesday night was presented with a proposal from the Clintonville Education Association (CEA) for increased insurance benefits and salary increases. Robert Edwards, CEA representative, presented the teacher proposal.

The CEA is the bargaining agent with the board on welfare, salary and benefits for certificated personnel, which includes more than 75 persons.

The entire proposal, including increases in insurance benefits, increment and normal raises, amounts to $26,127 a year. Of this, approximately $5,000 would be for increased insurance costs, about $11,700 for increases mostly for those on the "top of the schedule" for the experienced and higher degree people, and about $8,391 for the normal raises.

Insurance Request

The school district pays $54 a year for a teacher's insurance coverage, the cost for a single person while the cost for coverage for a family is $169.20 annually. The difference is paid by the man with a family. The CEA has asked the district to increase coverage, in the hospital, before flu becomes a problem in the city.

Unexpected Snag Hits Fox Plan Commission's Regional Projects Bill

Utility Official Objects to Loose Wording; Supports Basic Principle

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Legislation designed to permit the sponsorship of regional public projects by the Fox River Valley Regional Planning Commission encountered an unexpected barrier Tuesday when it was denounced by a spokesman for a major Wisconsin utility corporation.

R. W. Peterson, agent of the Wisconsin Public Service Corporation, persuaded the assembly committee on municipalities to defer action and to call another hearing in two weeks to examine what he called "dangerously loose" wording of the measure. Peterson said he has no objection to the declared objective of the commission of sponsoring regional park, highways and similar programs, but he said the draft of the bill might also permit inter-governmental action in the field of electrical power generation and distribution and other collective enterprises.

Sponsors Disappointed

Sponsors of the measure including officials of the commission and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities were visibly disappointed by the delay, but made no direct objection when Assemblyman Frank Scheffert of Milwaukee, committee chairman, granted Peterson's request for delay.

As explained by Assemblyman Harold Clemens, Waukesha, chairman of an interim legislative committee on urban problems which produced the bill after long study, it would authorize two or more municipalities to contract to sponsor jointly such services and projects they are now empowered to sponsor individually and to borrow money through bonds for such works.

But Peterson insisted upon a more strict definition of "regional projects", objecting that otherwise such inter-governmental compacts might conceivably encourage the establishment of "municipal cheese factories or bakeries."

Similar Bill

Peterson claimed that two years ago a similar bill, in broader language, had overtones of public power designs. Supporters of the bill included Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, Appleton alderman; Eugene Franchette, director of planning for the Fox Valley Planning Commission, and Ed Johnson of the League, (Andrew Damon, legal counsel of the State Department of Resource Development, explained that he had assisted in drafting the measure.

Bristles at Suggestion

Damon bristled when Peterson suggested that Frank Zeidler, former head of the department and a widely known Socialist, might have had a hand in the drafting of the measure.

"We must look very carefully at anything that Zeidler pre-gests," he said.

But Damon replied that Zeidler had nothing to do with the bill beyond authorizing him as departmental legal counsel to assist the sponsors in the technical problems involved in bill drafting.

The next hearing on the bill will be held March 10.

Outagamie Supervisors Question Tasks Of Administrator, Favor Realignment

Change Would Form Executive Secretary Post

BY RAY PY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Outagamie County supervisors will closely question the responsibilities of County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler, as proposed under the new committee realignment structure, but they will generally favor the committee redesign at a county board meeting in March.

That was the indication given Wednesday night by 11 committee chairmen who met to draft strategy for presenting the revolutionary committee redesign resolution to board members March 9.

The position now held by Woehler, presently referred to as the business administrator, will be called the executive secretary.

Responsibilities

Under the proposal, he will be responsible for audits and budgets, purchasing, personnel training, the proposed service center, insurance and all other duties as directed by the executive committee.

Woehler will be directly responsible to the executive committee, a new committee which will be formed of the county board chairman and each of the six chairmen of the basic committees.

Supervisors are expected to question how much "boss" power Woehler will have in the regard to hiring and firing, recommendations for changes, discipline and purchasing.

Committee Consideration Also expected to be questioned will be the ability of an 11-man committee to meet and function properly and how to determine who serves on what committee and how the committee head should be selected.

Woehler's resolution will argue that the realignment is a move in the right direction, and will give supervisors more time to debate legislative measures because their duties will not be tied up with county administrative duties. A few supervisors will oppose the plan as a "matter of course" and just because "it is a change," and some supervisors are non-committal and would be willing to wait until spring, 1966, for proposed reappointment before approving any great changes in committee design.

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer said the success of the plan would be in forming a strong, working executive committee.

He told the 11-man committee that the person the committee is selected to the executive committee is not getting "a good value."

Formation of the remaining committees is at the discretion of the county board, and the man selected "should be made aware of what he is getting into."

Basic Committees

Under the redesign, all county functions would be fit into three basic committees and the executive committee. Committees formed would be the law, order and justice, the human resources, economic advance-

Fulcer said that as far as he knew, the Outagamie County proposal was the first of its kind in Wisconsin.

House Won't Enter Port Controversy

Race Told Committee Will Not Initiate Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John A. Race, D-Wis., said Wednesday he has received assurances from the chairman of the House Commerce Committee that his committee will not investigate the Appleton-Oshkosh, Wis., airport controversy. Race noted that Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., has requested that such an investigation be initiated.

Circumstances Explained

The circumstances surrounding the case, Race said, were explained to Rep. Oren Harris, chairman of the committee, and the latter assured him the committee will not intervene in any matter that is being adjudicated by the Civil Aeronautics Board and the courts.

Outagamie County has challenged the ruling in the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

Chief Warns of River Danger

Ice on Wolf at New London Unsafe; Companion Aids Boy

NEW LONDON — Ice on the Wolf River is unsafe and presents a hazard to children crossing the river, New London Police Chief Jack Algiers said.

An unidentified youth fell through the ice near the Pearl Street bridge about 5 p.m. Tuesday and was helped out by a companion, Algiers said.

Appleton Board Of Health Urges City-County Unit

Duplication of Service Causes Programs to Lose Effectiveness

Formation of a city-county programs together and eliminate health department, which would eliminate the overlapping of existing splinter agencies, proposal to establish a county-wide health organization, merging several agencies, has been urged today by the Appleton Board of Health.

The board took the position that overlapping services are being extended by various groups in the city and county, lowering the kind of effectiveness a school-public health program should have.

It authorized Dr. James Laird, city health commissioner, to contact various health groups and representatives of governmental units on the city and county levels and call a public meeting to press for creation of a countywide health agency.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, a member of the board, said a similar attempt was made a few years ago but the movement bogged down. However, Mitchell said there is "a definite need to tie health

Waupaca Man's Attorney Named In Theft Case

WAUPACA — Kenneth Niemuth, 25, Waupaca, who has been charged with the theft of two Social Security checks, was appointed an attorney Wednesday when he appeared in County Court.

Niemuth said he did not want an attorney but County Judge Wendell McHenry said that because of the serious nature of the case he insisted Niemuth be represented and appointed Waupaca Attorney Richard E. Peterson.

Niemuth allegedly took the two checks from a mail box Oct. 3, 1964, and cashed them in Weyauwega. Following his arrest in early November, Niemuth was sent to the Winnebago State Hospital for a 30-day mental examination and to the Central State Hospital, Waupun, where he underwent a 60-day mental examination.

After Niemuth confers with his attorney, Judge McHenry said he will permit him to return to Court and enter a plea.

Neenah Pins Mat Setback On Truckers

26-23 Triumph Is First of the Year For Rocket Squad

NEENAH — Coach Gil Sutherland's Neenah wrestlers chalked up their first Mid-Eastern Conference triumph at the expense of Clintonville, 26-23, here Wednesday night.

The Rockets, who in recent meets have given away up to 15 points in forfeit points, gained 10 and didn't lose any on defaults.

Neenah picked up five points in the 95 pound and heavyweight divisions. Neither team had a contestant at 112 points.

The hosts added 10 points on a pair of pins and picked up the other six on two decisions. Clintonville copped four matches on pins and one via decision.

Mike LeGault, the Rockets' 138 pound Mid-Eastern Conference champion, pinned Ed Mitchell at 3:51 while Ted Hill stopped Mike O'Connor in 3:37 at 127.

Mike Milliken, conference runnerup at 165 pounds, hasn't been in school all week because of illness and didn't wrestle but his freshman brother, Kevin, did a commendable job against Ed Weede, the Truckers' league champion.

Milliken was on the verge of being pinned twice but always managed to keep one shoulder clear of the mat and lost a 9-0 decision.

Winners by decision for Neenah were Bob Brockman (120) over Bob Feitzer, 6-0, and Jim Stuenkelles (131) over Terry Thompson, 6-4. Tom Dieckhoff (95) and Heavyweight Dick Bondow were forfeit victors.

Clintonville's pin winners were Terry Schley (103) over Tom Dieckhoff in 5:04. Dave Taubel (145) over Tim Kramer (in 5:22. Bruce Christensen (154) over Bill Lenhardt in 3:23 and Jim Stoeck (180) over Keith Parman in 4:52. Kramer only trailed, 3-2, when pinned.

The Rockets won all three exhibition matches. Bob Pierce (180) pinned Ben Decorah in 1:49 while Dennis Bayer (133) posted a 5-0 decision over Dick Alf and Dick Meyer (138) edged her, declaring, "I thoroughly agree with everything she said. There should be a countywide setup and all health activities coordinated."

Supt. of Schools William Spears, who was asked to attend the meeting, indicated the school board was willing to cooperate and participate in a planned, coordinated program that would not detract from services now provided in the schools.

The need for getting all nursing agencies together and discussing problems in the open was expressed by Dr. Carl Neidhold, board president.

"There has been a lot of talk for a countywide health agency but it never gets far," Dr. Neidhold asserted. "Maybe we can get the people interested and bring this thing to a head."

State-Federal Fiscal Relationships

The State of Wisconsin has been given a clear-cut insight into the basic problem of financing state government today. Governor Knowles admitted that his best efforts at budget trimming could not prevent a spending increase for the next two years 27 per cent higher than in the current biennium. It is also plain that there are no gimmicks left available to the state for raising the needed additional revenue.

It does not lessen the problem to remark that Wisconsin's problem is duplicated in almost every other state of the nation. But the critical nature of the overall problem does suggest that a new fiscal relationship between states and the federal government must be considered in the immediate future.

Public attention as far as government spending is concerned has been largely centered on the federal government through the presidential and congressional election campaigns. But the facts are that federal government employment has been fairly steady in the last 10 years while state and local government employment, spending and debt have been skyrocketing.

Of state and local spending some 40 per cent nationally goes for education. Total outlay by states for education in 1964 was 24 billion dollars, will hit 30 billions this year. The federal contribution is just over two billions. State and local spending of all kinds has risen in 11 years from $26 billion to $60 billion. Federal grants to state and local governments rose only $6 billions in that period. State debt has risen spectacularly, from about $17 billion in 1946 to over $100 billions.

Those federal grants are part of the problem, however. Most require the state to raise matching funds. State officials have a difficult time resisting the demand to take advantage of the funds available for the federally-inspired programs. They must raise the matching funds. And the programs generally increase in scope and expense.

The governor's office is becoming more and more a political graveyard. In 1962 28 governors running for re-election were defeated. The record was similar last fall, and the Wisconsin scene again is typical. Governor Knowles probably has no more sympathetic opponent in tackling this year's state fiscal problems than former Governor Reynolds.

An increasing number of suggestions are being heard in Congress for the sharing of some federal tax revenues with states. The U.S. Treasury derives the bulk of its income from income taxes on individuals and corporations. There is far less resistance to increases in those taxes than there is on the state or local level. States in their tax structures must be ever mindful of their competitive situation with other states in their efforts to attract economic wealth. The same is true between cities and their suburban neighbors.

Within the next five years, if there is no dangerous change in the international situation, state and local spending for the first time will exceed total federal spending, including defense and foreign aid.

Just as the trend has been obvious in recent years for local government to call increasingly on state for financial help, states will be forced to go to Washington for more help in balancing their budgets.

Freedman Writes of Justice Who Was Like Father to Him

BY MAX FREEDMAN

Justice Felix Frankfurter is dead. Since illness compelled him to retire from the Supreme Court, he waged a heroic and tenacious struggle against the gathering infirmities of age and weakness. I had planned to write today of the critical situation in Viet Nam but I can think of nothing but Frankfurter. Next to my father, no man has meant so much to me.

Freedman

When I saw him the other day, I stayed for only a few minutes, for the strain of fatigue was clearly visible. Yet even in that hurried talk he touched on several of his enduring interests.

I had brought him news of his old friend, Mr. Grenville Clark, one of the great citizens of our time. He said, with a touch of his familiar vehemence, that he would feel more secure about America's future if he could be certain that young lawyers shared Mr. Clark's conviction that citizenship in America "is not a privilege but an obligation." Here is an abiding theme of his own life and career.

ADVANCE COPY OF BOOK
Then, with trembling pride, he asked me to look at an advance copy of a book containing his articles and addressed from 1956-63 as edited by Professor Philip

Frank Cohen were chairmen of the dance being held by Montefiore Ladies Aid Society. Proceeds of the benefit affair at Rainbow Gardens was to go to charity.

Miss Bernice Yandre, Appleton, entertained in honor of her birthday anniversary. Guests included Edna Klug, Lois Tomow, Janis Dehne, Earl Arnold, Frank Spencer, Robert Rehfeldt, and Raymond Zimmerman.

10 YEARS GO

Appleton High School boys chosen to take part in the annual Bolton-Roth extemporaneous speaking contest included Peter Davis, Richard Hamilton, William Mielke, Walter Rugland and Roy Stohman.

Winners at schafskopf at the Sherwood card party held by Sacred Heart Church parish of that village included Mrs. Al Propson, Mrs. Frank Dietzen, Tony Mueller and Frank Dietzen. Skat winners were James Dhein, Norbert Wagner, Jack Horn, Nick Lettler and Joseph Deschler.

Mrs. Donald Promer, Mrs. Joan Hunter, Mrs. Jerry Wroblewski and Mrs. Pat Allenberg were appointed by the Fox Valley All Women's American Legion Post to attend the Outagamie County Council meeting.

Jurland of the University of Chicago Law School and published by the Harvard Press. It is an excellent book that will be cherished by scholars and lovers of precise thought for years to come. But Frankfurter did not talk of its erudition. He merely said that he hoped its scholarship did not conceal his zest for life—his supreme quality.

I next told him that in Mr. Richard Goodwin's office in the White House are several Frankfurter pictures. This greatly pleased him, for Goodwin's quick and resourceful mind had always fascinated him, Goodwin being a favorite among his former law clerks. These words sound so pallid and lifeless when set down in this fashion. Mr. and Mrs. Frankfurter had no children but they had an absolute genius for taking these gifted young men from Harvard and making them feel completely at home suffusing their lives with intellectual adventure and high purpose. Frankfurter's law clerks were the luckiest people in America. They knew it then and they have never forgotten it now.

My references to Goodwin led naturally to some talk about President Johnson. He told me once again he had apologized to the President for dictating his last letter instead of writing it by hand. This was the first time he had sent anything but a handwritten note or letter to any President. It should be added that President Johnson, in all his correspondence with Justice Frankfurter, has invariably written with a tenderness and eloquence that would grace a great letter writer. Frankfurter's correspondence with Presidents goes back to President Theodore Roosevelt, and on this list President Johnson holds a very high place indeed.

Finally we talked of a project on which we, and Mrs. Elsie Douglas, his devoted secretary, had been working. Frankfurter had been instrumental years ago in persuading President Franklin Roosevelt to appoint Mr. Archibald MacLeish as the Librarian of Congress, and he wanted this story told. So it will be, not too long from now, in the Atlantic Monthly, thanks to the editorial discernment of Mr. Ted Weeks. For added measure, there will be an appreciation of MacLeish as Librarian by Mr. David Mearns, that admirable scholar who is a glory of the Library of Congress.

Somehow it seems appropriate that Frankfurter, though stricken and tired, should occupy his mind with thoughts of his friends and the cares of the larger world. He could do nothing else, even to the end.

Gave Solemn Charge

He laid the solemn charge on me over the years never to write one word about him that would bring the Supreme Court or any of its members into disrepute. This was in fact the one restriction which he placed on me, as I worked on his biography, and he repeated it many times. All judicial differences were to be expressed with complete respect for justices holding other views, and the Supreme Court as an institution was never to be lowered in public esteem.

I was, of course, enjoined to write with special friendship of Justice Harlan, who shared his judicial philosophy in so many respects and who has been so kind to Frankfurter in his long illness. But I was commanded with equal emphasis by Frankfurter to write with admiration and affection of Justice Black. Their mutual admiration survived all differences, and at the end these two great justices held each other in the highest possible regard. There will be many surprised faces when this full story is revealed.

Like Frankfurter, I am without religious inspiration or consolation. But as this giant flame dwindles and grows small, I would gladly raise any prayer that would serve to keep his spirit aglow a little longer.

"I understand the Russians are away ahead of us in one phase of education! . . . Their teachers aren't required to attend P.T.A. meetings!"

Rural Influence Now Quite Impotent in State's Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—There were indulgent smiles in the State Senate the other day when Sen. J. E. Leverich of Monroe County, whose long suit is the impassioned oration on behalf of the farmers in his rural-oriented district, protested the county board reorganization bill which had just breezed through the house as an affront to Wisconsin agriculture.

Wyngaard

Sen. Leverich prizes his reputation as the legislature's most persistent champion of the farmer. In any objective appraisal, he is one of the most ingenious men in the capitol in adapting ordinary events to his solicitous concern for the farmers' welfare. Often his obdurate attitudes bring dividends also. Scarcely anyone informed about the subject can doubt that he advanced the construction of the new dairy science building on the University of Wisconsin campus by at least a decade, for example, by his stubbornly repetitious demands.

BUT YET . . .

But if Sen. Leverich was stretching a point in oratorical license by complaining that equal representation on county boards is hurtful to agriculture, there might also have been a deeper meaning in his protest.

For there is very little on the Wisconsin political horizon that the Wisconsin agricultural interest can cheer about.

The strictly rural interest years ago lost the rural school reorganization issue. Rural representatives, gradually outvoted as the state became urbanized, and more recently badly outvoted as a result of reapportionment, fought stubbornly and resourcefully, but they have lost that battle.

For decades the farm interest was able to defeat the demand of city residents for daylight saving time by merely registering opposition at legislative hearing committees. Here is perhaps the most definitive test of the political realignment of the state with respect to urban and rural power. Not only is the daylight saving time as securely established as almost any other modern law that can be named, but there is a fair to good chance that this legislature will extend the daylight saving time schedule in the autumn by a month, without much regard to the grumbling resistance of the professional farmer organizations.

Legislative reapportionment on its own account represents a reversal for the rural interests, as the votes on the last reapportionment referendum so eloquently showed. Farmers generally resisted the movement for urban control of the state government. They have lost that fight irrevocably also.

OTHER FIGHTS

Increasingly there is heard the clamor from non-rural interests for a redistribution of the state highway aid appropriations to cut the amount of money going to town and farm-to-market roads. City politicians with an eye to the sensitivity of their constituents about soaring costs of government are demanding "reform" of town government. To the rural resident that is not only a tricky propaganda device, but a frontal attack on an institution that as far as he can see concerns only those persons who are paying for it—himself and his neighbors.

A quarter of a century ago the farm lobbyists were numerous and powerful on the legislative sidelines. A quarter of a century ago the chief men in the legislature were farmers, or men who owed their places to rural votes. All that has changed.

Sen. Leverich's gesture against the inevitability of county board reapportionment was an idle one, in practical terms. But the chances are that there are many outnumbored rural residents of Wisconsin who are grateful to him nevertheless.

Purely Personal Prejudices: Nation's images of one another are almost always faulty—for instance, we think of the French as "romantic" when in truth they are the most realistic about sex of any people; while the French think of us as "materialistic," when in truth we are much more idealistic than they, or than most peoples.

Speaking of the French, nine out of ten Parisian drama critics blasted Arthur Miller's play, "After the Fall," produced there last month; which may not vindicate the Chicago critics who attacked it, but at least absolves them of the charge of provincialism.

Few sights are more pitiful and embarrassing than that of a once-beautiful woman who has remained vain long past her prime, and has never learned how to move from fleeting charms to abiding graces.

Whoever can be induced to tell a lie in your behalf can also be induced to tell a lie against you; the only person to be trusted is the one who will not violate his honor even to help you.

Meeting a leady literary figure for the first time recently, I was reminded of Bulwer Lytton's astute comment: "The worst part of an eminent man's conversation is nine times out of ten, to be found in that part which he means to be clever."

Chess is not a popular game with most people, not because of its complexity or profundity, as is alleged, but because it is the only game without an element of luck—which means that nothing and no one can be blamed if one plays poorly.

Puritans are so sour because in their heart of hearts they cannot really forgive God for having been so crude as to make men and women with generative organs, instead of permitting us to reproduce "spiritually."

The whole trap of parenthood consists in the melancholy truism that by the time the third child comes along, the parents have only just learned how the first one should have been handled.

Take away grievances from some people and you remove their reasons for living; most of us are nourished by hope, but a considerable minority get psychic nutrition from their resentments, and would waste away purposelessly without them.

I'm fond of the little boy's definition of "chivalry," after studying knighthood in school: "Chivalry," he said, "is going around releasing beautiful maidens from other men's castles, and taking them to your own castle."

River Navigation to Begin Soon

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for March 4, 1965.

Mr. McDonald, the efficient Superintendent of the Fox and Wisconsin Improvement Company, informs us that he is having the locks on the river put in thorough trim to be ready for the opening of navigation.

A false report has been circulating through some of the upper counties that the river business would be suspended during the coming season. It may have been started by interested parties, but there is not a shadow of foundation to it.

We notice by the Green Bay Advocate that the steamers Fountain City and Bay City are to be transferred to the Mississippi River on the opening of navigation. Other boats probably will take their places.

Boyle Can Do Without Short Skirts and Such

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Some things we could do without: your arm knocks a steak off the table. Ladies who think it is cute to smoke a jeweled pipe in public, but expect a man to keep lighting it for them. Girls over 10 who wear dresses above their knees. Esthetes who can't appreciate anything written or painted before they were born. Night clubs so crowded that if you applaud, you are elbowed in the ribs. Mothers who hand you babies to hold that have queasy stomachs. Poodles with haircuts like teenagers. Strangers who rap on your door to ask you to contribute to a strange cause—such as a campaign to wipe out beetles. Old grads who are always trying to get the scalp of their alma mater's football coach. Laundries that put starch in your collar no matter how many times you tell them you don't want starch in your collar. Ex-ecutives who clip their fingernails while bawling out underlings. Magazine articles giving the favorite recipes of movie stars who actually couldn't cook. Stenographers with fingernails a three-minute egg in a year. All dealers who sell pistols, rifles — or guitars — by mail. Bored who spend a whole evening bragging about their knowledge of French wines or telling you how many shaves they can get out of a razor blade. Authors who write long novels about their tortured adolescents. The tormented dramas of avant garde playwrights who think life is just another dirty four-letter word. Drugstore sandwiches made of cardboard smothered in mayonnaise. All people who insist on telling you about their divorces, their dreams, their diets — or a new series of isometric exercises that will make you so strong you can tear a deck of cards in half with one hand. From these, and many another pest, let us have rest.

Presidency's Bad Side Catching Up With LBJ

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The unhappy side of the presidency finally caught up with Lyndon B. Johnson who had it fairly nice, coping with the predictable, in his first 14 months in the White House.

There had been some annoyances abroad but most of his time, talent, and tenacity were concentrated on problems at home, like winning an election, getting a civil rights bill passed, pushing through a tax cut.

This was where he was an expert, after his long years in Washington. He had an acute sensitivity to politicians, understood the machinery of government, knew when to shift gears, throw switches, and turn the heat on.

Time Was Kind
Time was extraordinarily kind in allowing him so long a stretch in which to deal with what he knew best. No President since Franklin D. Roosevelt had such little critical trouble overseas in his first 14 months.

It couldn't last, and it didn't. Trouble finally piled up on him when the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam attacked U.S. bases and shocked Americans into a vivid realization of what they were up against.

Anyone paying attention to the news these past two years knew the American-backed war against the Communists was going to pot and that the guerrillas were taking over more and more of a country the United States was helping defend.

How to Save on U. S. Income Tax—IX
Be Sure You Compute Tax From Proper Table

BY SYLVIA PORTER
(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America) Millions of you will find hints which will help you save on taxes in this final column of this series: Do you have an adjusted gross income of less than $5,000 and are you planning to use the operation even though he had no gross income from this free-lance business. The court held that even a full-time employee could have a sideline business—such as selling real estate—and deduct his allocable expenses despite the fact that no income came in during the year.

Porter
ptional tax table to find your ax?
If so, a major warning: There was only one tax table before, there are now five tables. Be sure to use the one which applies to you. For instance, if you are married and filing a joint return, use Table A.
Do not use Tables C or D which apply to married persons filing separate returns and which give a higher tax than Table A.
Are you among America's millions of "moonlighters"? If either you or your wife worked for two or more employers who together withheld more than $174 in 1964 Social Security taxes (FICA) from either one of you, you can in effect get that excess back by eating it as part of your income tax payment for 1964. The official Treasury instructions to line 17a of Form 1040 will give you the details on how to do this.
Are you an employee or small businessman who tried an outside business in 1964—using your home as a place of business?
If you earned any income from this during 1964, there generally is no objection to your deducting a portion of your home expenses as business expenses—but if you, outside of your home, produced no income or sales in 1964, the Treasury probably will claim you weren't in business and couldn't deduct your business expenses. A 1964 Tax Court case, though, allowed a full-time employee to deduct the expenses of his moonlighting business.

Favorable Action On Schools Urged

Marinette Chamber of Commerce and the Marinette County Board.

Marinette's opposition was stated in two brief letters, one from the chamber and the other signed by County Clerk Donald John.

Delay Wanted

The Milwaukee organization was interested in delaying the bill pending a recommendation from the committee of 25, appointed by Gov. Warren Knowles to study the matter.

Lucey said the need for the two schools "is reaching emergency proportions." Locating schools in the Fox Valley and the Racine-Kenosha area would greatly reduce the students' cost and is "sound public policy," Lucey added.

Asked if he would still support the two schools if the Truax Field facilities became available, Lucey commented: "That would still not cut the cost of students who have to live away from home."

The Democratic lieutenant governor quoted University of Wisconsin President Fred H. Harrington as saying that most college drop-outs are the result of lack of money rather than poor grades.

Would Cut Costs

It has been stated that it would cost a student about $900 a year less if he is able to live at home.

Land Available

Warren, a Brown County Republican, pointed out in his support of the schools, that land is available in the Fox Valley at from $2,000 to $3,000 an acre compared with a recent purchase of land for the Madison campus of the University at a rate of $430,000 an acre.

"There's broad support in my area for this school and the people will demand a solution," he added. "The governor is lukewarm (to the proposals) but we must convince him," continued Warren.

Also attending the hearing and in support of the bill were representatives of the Greater Green Bay Labor Council, Green Bay Attorney William Duffy, representing the labor group, stated, "Bringing education to people of our area is as good as blue chip stocks." He said education is the ultimate answer to industrial growth, human rights and many social problems.

Support Urged

Also urging support for the bill were Dr. Robert Clodius, UW vice-president, and Carlisle P. Runge and Dr. Jim Dan Hill, co-staff directors of the Coordinating Committee on Higher Education.

Neglected Area

Hill called Wisconsin's lake-front from Kenosha to Green Bay "the neglected area in higher education."

It was pointed out that "the triangle" from Green Bay to Madison to Kenosha contains over 80 per cent of the state's population, but only four of the 11 state supported colleges or universities.

Runge restated the coordinating committee's timetable for construction of the two schools.

Fox Valley First

First to be built, according to the committee's program, is the Fox Valley school so it will open in the 1969-71 biennium. The Racine-Kenosha school should be opened in the 1971-73 biennium, Runge stated.

Clodius said there will be from 2,300 to 2,800 students in each area by 1970 and that the two institutions should be "built on the base of the present two-year university centers."

Hill, former president of Superior State College, disagreed with Clodius' hint that the new school should be administered by the university.

He said the "fact is overlooked" that the schools will draw away from Oshkosh and White-water State Universities. He favors placing the new schools under the direction of the state universities Board of Regents.

The bill proposes that the coordinating committee determine which board shall govern the schools.

Expand Now

Assemblyman George Molinaro of Kenosha, Democratic chairman of the Joint Finance Committee, added, "Either we expand (educational opportunities) now or pay a higher price later."

Also supporting the bill were A. A. Deering, a member of the Green Bay Industrial Development Authority, and former assemblyman, and Lawrence Hagen, former mayor of Superior.

The bill, introduced by the Joint Finance Committee, would authorize $2.4 million this biennium for "planning and architectural design of the new institutions."

Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey told the committee that the need for the colleges in the Fox River Valley and Racine-Kenosha area is "reaching emergency proportions."

He said the two schools would "greatly increase the opportunities for higher education."

"By placing schools in northeastern and southeastern Wisconsin, we will bring a college education into commuting distance of many qualified college age youths," he said.

Pope Paul VI Invests 26 Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI invested 26 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today, conferring on them the red hats and rings of their princely office.

The cardinals included one American, Archbishop Lawrence Shehan of Baltimore, Md. The 27th prelate elevated by the Pope this week, Bishop Angel Herrera y Oria of Malaga, remained in Spain to receive his insignia from the Spanish chief of state, Generalissimo Franco, in accordance with tradition in that Catholic country.

The glittering public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica was attended by thousands, including presidents of African states, Prime Minister Sean Lemass of Ireland and 36 other cardinals. But the ceremony was drastically revised, reflecting the current modernization of the church.

Today's ceremony took the place of three separate consistories previously held for new cardinals.

Khanh Reportedly Favors Extending War to North

Cabot Lodge, and when Lodge left to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination last year, Khanh was quoted as advising Washington to "send me another Lodge."

For one thing, Khanh is represented by those who know him well as arguing that the Americans bungle, blunder into internal political situations which are none of their business. Such intervention, he is said to feel, often causes Vietnamese leaders to oppose the Americans as a matter of principle, on the basis of sovereignty, whether or not their opposition represents

Government Stability

As for the stability the Americans have been seeking so long in South Viet Nam's government, people who have talked with Khanh believe he would insist such stability could come only through cooperation with the predominant Buddhists.

Khanh is known to have complained that the Americans in Saigon insist upon thinking of Viet Nam as a case all to itself, without taking into consideration what the Red Chinese may be planning. He is represented as believing that there is little time left, that this is the year of decision in Southeast Asia.

Khanh is apparently of the opinion that eventually war between China and America is inevitable, if oriental communism is not to engulf all the Orient. This opinion argues that the longer the China-West conflict is delayed, the worse it will be for the West, as China continues to build a nuclear arsenal.

China Bomb

Khanh has said publicly he believes the China bomb is a life or death question for the West and an event which cost the Americans heavily. China now controls great masses of people in Asia, and Khanh speculates gloomily that achievement of nuclear weapons will tip the balance in Asia in China's favor.

North Viet Nam's propaganda calls Khanh's assignment abroad a "trick" by Ambassador Taylor to clear the decks of Khanh supporters. More likely, Hanoi fears that Khanh in the United States will find a sympathetic audience for his views.

Saigon Leadership

It would be no surprise if such views were widespread among the Saigon leadership. Indeed, the suspicion that a general war in Asia may be the result, before long, of frustration with the current state of affairs seems to be impelling the Soviet Union to diplomatic activity.

The Soviets and French have agreed that there should be international negotiations on Viet Nam. Some U.S. congressional

See Another Steel Election

Government May
Step in, Order
Union to Vote Again

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

Informed labor sources predicted today there was a good chance that the government will order a new election in the fight for the presidency of the United Steel Workers Union.

The Labor Department is watching the tabulation of votes in the contest between President David J. McDonald and the union's secretary-treasurer, I. W. Abel.

Highly placed labor sources, here for the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting, said if the final outcome is within a few thousand votes, the Landrum-Griffin Act is likely to be invoked to order a new election.

The Labor Department has ordered numerous new votes in contested local union elections but such an order in the million-member steelworkers union would be the first involving a major international union.

Past Policy

The sources based their prediction on past Labor Department policy in contested union elections.

AFL-CIO President George Meany has urged the steelworkers to extend the contracts, due to expire May 1, to make up for time lost in the election battle.

Steel contract negotiations have been suspended for several months pending the outcome of the election.

The vote tabulation has been under way in Pittsburgh since Monday.

Leaders argue that any sort of talks now would be a form of surrender, the beginning of Red Chinese domination of all South-east Asia. Khanh seems to think so, too.

Police Last To Know of Teen Gaming

HAWORTH, N.J. (AP) —

The police were the last to know about a teen-age gambling operation being conducted in the home of a 16-year-old boy, the police chief admits.

"It was common knowledge among the teen-agers," Chief Gaston Michel said Wednesday.

"My daughter Patty knew about it but said nothing. That's the way teen-agers are now. They won't tell you anything," the chief said.

He quickly added that neither of his teen-age daughters had been any problem.

The gambling operation was brought to police attention by an anonymous tip. Police kept a $40,000 home in this quiet suburban Bergen County community of 3,750 under observation for ten days and then raided the place, seizing a gambling table, dice, chips, and I.O.U. slips totaling $800.

The owners of the home, Oscar Olsen, who is an insurance salesman, his wife Catherine, their maid Minnie Chatham, and their 16-year-old son and two other teen-age boys were arrested. The teen-agers were charged as juvenile delinquents and the adults were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Church Silences Priest Favoring Birth Control

LONDON (AP) — Father Joseph Cocker, the second young Roman Catholic priest in Britain to speak out in favor of birth control despite Church teaching against it, was silenced by his superiors today.

Msgr. Joseph Mullarky, vicar-general of the Portsmouth Diocese, said Father Cocker had "forfeited all his rights to speak and preach as a priest of the Church" because of his views.

chairman of Wisconsin's Paper Industry Information Service. Paper and allied products are the state's fourth largest industry with more than $1 billion in annual sales, he says.

Consolidated's history is probably typical of many Wisconsin companies, he added. The company produced mostly newsprint until turning to specialty papers in the 1930s. It moved into its primary market, coated paper, in 1935.

Mead's grandfather, George W. Mead, was made president of Consolidated several years after its founding in 1894. His father, Stanton W. Mead, is president today. The younger Mead said entering the paper business wasn't as automatic as the family background would indicate; he was the only one of nine children who did.

Consolidated operates an Appleton division, the Interlake pulp mill.

Sam Cook's Widow, Guitarist to Marry; Are Refused License

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Sam Cooke's widow and his guitarist for three years have applied for a marriage license, but officials say they turned them away because the groom-to-be was too young.

Barbara Cooke, 29, and guitarist Bobby Womack, 20, of Cleveland made their application Wednesday at the Los Angeles County Courthouse. The marriage bureau said Womack would have to have parental consent.

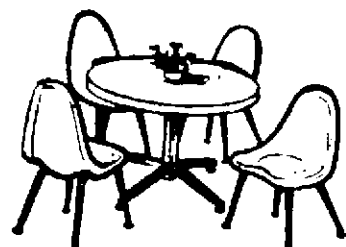

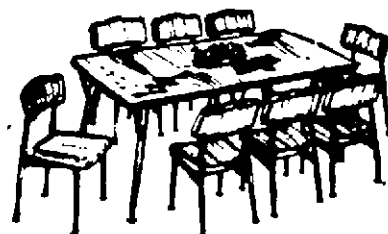

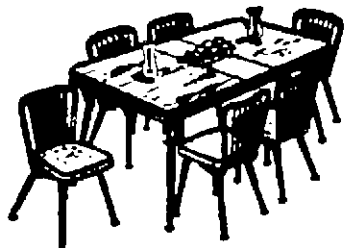

Cooke, 32, was shot to death when he tried to break into the office of a woman motel manager last Dec. 4. His death was ruled justifiable homicide.
